CARRANZA TO ACT IN KILLING OF CORRELL

Promises to Punish Slayings; Early Invasion Urged.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—While official Washington tonight awaited details of the latest anti-American outrage in Mexico, in which American sailors from the U. S. S. Cheyenne were attacked and killed by Mexican revolutionaries near Tampico, the state department issued the following statement:

"Acting Secretary of State Phillips announced tonight that the Mexican government has advised the American embassy at Mexico City that it will exhaust every means to prosecute and punish those responsible for the murder of John W. Correll, an American citizen, and the attack upon Mrs. Correll.

Correll died defending his wife. Mr. Correll was killed recently while resisting an attack upon his wife at their home near Colonia, twenty-seven miles north of Tampico. The dispatch which reported the attack said that the assailants were members of a raiding force of approximately fifty men.

"The American embassy and the American consulate at Tampico immediately made urgent representations to the Mexican government to protect American citizens in that state and to take adequate measures to protect American citizenship in that district.

Call Crimes 'Odious.' "Tonight the department of state received a message, stating that as a result of the urgent representations of the Mexican government the Mexican foreign office yesterday advised the embassy that 'the Mexican government will use all efforts in the prosecution and punishment of those responsible for a crime so odious, in the clearing up of which it will exhaust all means at its disposal.'

The Mexican government's assurance in the Correll case had not been followed up to a late hour tonight by any response to the state department's representations of yesterday, but officials expected a reply from Carranza before many hours.

Daniels Demands Details. At the navy department Secretary Daniels was waiting for a detailed account of the incident from Commander Finney of the Cruiser Topeka in Mexican waters. Commander Finney was directed last night to send a complete report of the sailors' encounter with the Mexicans and a description of the men.

Although no reply had been received this evening, naval officials were confident a complete report would arrive some time tonight.

The assault upon the American sailors and insult to the flag which their deed undoubtedly was flying have forced the ever troublesome Mexican situation into the Washington forefront again. Officials predict it will force a new and more forcible policy toward Mexico on the part of the 'watchful waiting' administration which they say has been in process of development for some time.

Protesters Are Urged. Just how aggressive this policy will be is not known here, but for many days state department officials have persistently denied recurrent reports that the government is preparing for intervention to clear the country of bandits and bandit bands which have no respect for American life or property or the American flag.

Notwithstanding these denials, it is reported that some of the president's most trusted advisers have urged him no longer to temporize with Mexico and to establish a protectorate over the country.

That the subject will be forced to a showdown by the newest Tampico incident is regarded by many men in high places here as certain, and they look for it to be the principal subject of discussion when President Wilson meets the cabinet Tuesday.

Congress to Take a Hand. The Tamez river incident also will be taken up in congress and the investigation of the Mexican situation scheduled for Tuesday before the rules committee of the house probably will include this latest development in a long series of Mexican outrages against Americans and American interests.

COPS REMOVED, 10,000 "YARDS" MEN END STRIKE

Meeting on Prairie Votes to Return to Jobs Today.

Nearly 10,000 stockyard workers who have been out on a strike since Friday morning agreed yesterday afternoon to go back to their jobs this morning. They were told a large detail of policemen who have been guarding the various plants, to whom they objected, would be withdrawn.

With thousands of others, the workers voted to stand by the officers of the Stockyards Labor council, who will demand wage increases ranging from 30 to 50 per cent from the packers this week, with a hint of a big strike if the demands are not granted.

Gathering on a big prairie at Forty-seventh and Robey streets, the crowd repeatedly cheered Martin Murphy, president of the council; J. W. Johnston, secretary, and John Kikula, chief organizer, during speeches.

"Go Back," Is Word. "We want you to go back to work in the morning, as Judge Alschuler has requested Chief Garrity to withdraw the policemen around the plants," said Johnston. "Go back on your jobs and stay there. Let your officers handle or call strikes, for we do not wish to see the spasmoid strikes you have been calling yourselves."

"Now don't go back and try to demand pay for the time you were out on a strike, as you have been doing, for they won't give it to you."

"We have about finished the wage increases and are going to give them to the packers this week. We want you to let the officers handle everything for you. Are you with us?"

"Yes," roared the crowd. Then it cheered.

Cheers for Kikula. Kikula was then formally introduced by Johnston. Born in Poland, he has been in this country ever since he was a small boy, and speaks four languages. The crowd cheered him.

Kikula, talking in Polish, impressed on the workers the necessity of going back to work this morning and letting their officers handle the situation.

A meeting of the shop committee was held at Columbia hall, Forty-eighth and Paulina streets, in which they were told to get their men back on the job and keep them there for further orders.

As a result of the strike, the conditions will not be friendly between the workers and the packers until Capt. Michael Zimmer of the New City police station and Capt. Coughlin of the Stockyards station are withdrawn from this district," said Johnston later in an interview.

"We are going to present a new wage scale to the packers this week; the minimum for laborers is to be 70 cents an hour. We will lay the scale before a meeting of the council Monday night for ratification. There may be some changes."

Judge Also Gets Scale. "It may not be ready for the packers before a week," said President Murphy, and it will go to them and Judge Alschuler. They probably will be given a couple of weeks to act on it. These men are getting so we can hardly hold them back."

The laborers, who comprise nearly half of the 80,000 employees of all the packing firms, are being paid now at the rate of 42 1/2 cents an hour, with a bonus of $3 per week. This brings their pay up to 46 1/2 cents an hour.

The other workers' scale calls for 30 to 50 per cent increases, and the average will run over 30 per cent.

About six weeks ago the packers agreed to continue paying the present wages, which expired with the signing of the peace treaty, for another year.

Stockyard workers in St. Louis, Kansas City, Sioux City and other packing centers also are getting ready to demand more wages.

'The Drink with the Kick' Proves as Advertised

For several days the saloon of Peter Roschell, 555 South Clark street, has attained great popularity with the 'juicy' because of the signs in his window which advertise:

"Proving 'The Drink with the Kick.' A delighted passerby went into the place last night and ordered a drink of this wonderful beverage. He paid 10 cents, gulped down the liquid, and waited. Nothing happened. Absolutely nothing."

"Where's the kick?" he asked.

STATE BOARD GIVES PLEDGE OF REVENUE

Car Men Ready to Take Less than 85 Cents.

That the threatened strike of 15,000 car men in Chicago will be averted appeared probable yesterday. Union officials exhibited a spirit of compromise. The state public utilities commission prepared to back up the railway companies in any reasonable wage increase granted.

Thomas E. Dempsey, chairman of the state commission, which will begin its hearing this morning, said that the commissioners would permit the companies to increase their revenues to meet a just wage increase. This attitude particularly will apply to the surface lines.

"We are prepared to protect the companies from any crippling effects which might be sustained through a wage increase by granting them permission to increase their revenues," said Chairman Dempsey. "This, however, does not mean that they can enter into a wage scale agreement in accordance with the 77 per cent increase demands now being made by the unions."

Ready to Compromise. The attitude of the commission met with the hearty approval of William Quinlan, president of the traction men's organization, who said that he would appear before the commissioners this morning prepared to compromise.

The union leader seemed certain that a substantial increase would be favored by the commissioners. He said that he, with other members of the committee, would drive the best bargain possible in behalf of the employees. He admitted that the 85 cents specified in the original demands would likely be shaded.

He also added that a reasonable time would be allowed the commission to make a thorough investigation.

"The union does not want to appear belligerent," he said. "We will not demand anything unreasonable from either the commission or the mayor's board. This applies not only to the wage demands, but to the time limit of the two investigating bodies."

No Raise in "L" Fares. Any increase in fares which might be granted the railway companies by the commission will apply only to the surface lines, it was intimated by Chairman Dempsey last night.

"Conditions in Chicago traffic have changed since the commission granted the 'L' roads a 1 cent increase in rates," he said. "At that time war conditions were undoubtedly cutting into the company's revenues. With the return of the city's soldiers and the increased business activities the elevated roads are now carrying nearly as many passengers as they did before the war."

The demands of the car men are out of reason, and fare increase in proportion would work a hardship upon the public. The commissioners will make an investigation of higher costs in living and former wage scales. And it will be on these that it will determine a reasonable increase."

"The situation is purely a Chicago problem. Any decisions of the commission in granting increased fares in Glasgow, or other parts of the state, will have no bearing on our investigations here."

See Spirit of Cooperation. The spirit of cooperation was apparent among all concerned last night. Upon the suggestion of President Quinlan it is possible that the hearings of the commission and the mayor's arbitration board will be merged. Quinlan expressed the view that delaying complications might arise if the two boards conducted their conferences with the union committees separately.

Chairman Dempsey said it was Gov. Lowden's intent for the commission to work in harmony with local officials.

The plans outlined by the commission provide for interviewing the union officials today and the company heads tomorrow. If agreements can be reached in these preliminary meetings the findings of the utilities board can be forwarded to the governor by Thursday or Friday. Union officials agreed that this was a reasonable length of time.

THE CHANGING WORLD

Before the war he was contented with his job. But after two years of exciting soldier life he is too restless to settle down to the old job again.

Before the country went dry the Monday morning police court was full of 'drunk and disorderlies.' But now the old crowd is greatly diminished.

During the war the amount of money in the U. S. was doubled. And now the prices of food, labor, clothing, and materials are doubled.

THE LABOR SITUATION

Ten thousand stockyard workers who have been on a strike voted to go back to work today. Policemen, to whom they objected as too numerous around the plants, have been withdrawn. Their leaders later this week will present a new scale of wage increase demands ranging from 30 to 50 per cent.

Settlement of the traction crisis by compromise appeared likely when Chairman Dempsey of the utilities board last night said the board probably would raise fares sufficiently to meet a reasonable increase in wages, and President Quinlan of the car men indicated they might meet the commission half way by reducing their demands.

President Simon O'Donnell of the Chicago building trades council appointed a committee of six, which, with his aid, will try to adjust the trouble between the carpenters and the contractors and end the lockout of more than 100,000 building workers this afternoon.

Organizers still are working on the strikers from the Crane company, the Harvester company, and other industrial plants involved in the new form of strike.

The Corn Products strike is about over. The plant is declared to be running at nearly full speed, while a large number of the strikers are out of jobs. State's Attorney Hoyne is investigating the riots.

MARSHAL FOCH EXPECTED IN U. S. IN NOVEMBER

BY FLOYD GIBBONS.

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—Marshal Foch, commander in chief of the allied armies, is to be invited by the American Legion to visit America this fall and to attend the next meeting of the legion in November.

The invitation, long urged by the American veterans who fought under the allied generalissimo, is now crystallizing and will be dispatched by cable in several days over the names of American soldiers now prominent in the great war veterans' association. The action became known in New York today.

From several of Foch's recent statements expressing his wish to visit the country that provided the might and manhood for the final victory an early acceptance is expected.

MILLARD ROACH DIES AS CANOE UPSETS IN LAKE

Friend Tries Vainly to Save Him; Elopement Recalled.

Millard Roach, grandson of John M. Roach, former president of the Chicago Surface Lines, was upturned in the lake of Webster avenue yesterday when a canoe in which he and a companion were paddling overturned less than 300 feet from the shore.

George Metternach, 2583 Orchard street, who was with him, swam to shore after vainly attempting to save Roach's life.

Loss Held on Canoe. Young Roach had gone with his companion to the Lincoln Park Boat club to apply for membership, and while there suggested a canoe ride. Both of the young men were bathing suits. He was asked if he could swim and said he could. A little distance out a swell caught the canoe and Roach in leaping forward for balance upset it. For a moment or two the youth clung to the canoe, which rolled over and over in the waves. Losing hold at last, Roach clung to his companion until both sank.

Metternach freed himself and came to the top, but Roach came up no more. Metternach made for the shore and called for help.

Recalls Elopement. A little more than a year ago Roach eloped to Crown Point with Miss Loreta Hayes, now living at 4611 Dover street. After a tempestuous honeymoon of six weeks they parted. The objections of the young man's grandfather, it is said, hastened the separation. Subsequently she sued him for separate maintenance, declaring she still loved him.

This morning divers employed by his grandfather will search for the young man's body.

Two Other Boys Drown. Tolva Huomo, an 18 year old Waukegan boy, dived into four feet of water off Lake Forest yesterday and broke his neck. He was dead when his companions brought him to shore. An unidentified Chicago boy, about 17 years old, was drowned when he fell out of a canoe at Fox lake.

trian army is henceforth reduced to 30,000 men on a purely elementary basis.

Paragraph five, relating to the military, says that the Austrian army shall not exceed 30,000 men, including officers and depot troops. Within three months the Austrian military forces shall be reduced to this number, universal military service abolished, and voluntary enlistment substituted, as part of the plan "to render possible the initiation of a general limitation of armaments of all nations."

Army for Guard Work.
The army shall be used exclusively for the maintenance of internal order and control of frontiers. All officers must be regulars, those of the present army to be retained being under the obligation to serve until 40 years old. Those newly appointed agreeing to at least twenty consecutive years of active service. Noncommissioned officers and privates must enlist for not less than twelve consecutive years, including at least six years with the colors. Within three months the armament of the Austrian army must be reduced according to detailed schedules and all surplus surrendered. The manufacture of all material shall be confined to one single factory, under the control of the state, and other such establishments shall be closed down or converted into the production of articles of arms, munitions, and war materials of all kinds is forbidden.

REPARATION TERMS

According to the treaty, the allied and associated governments affirm and Austria accepts the responsibility of Austria and her allies for causing loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by the aggression of Austria and her allies.

While recognizing that Austria's resources will not be adequate to make complete reparation, the allied and associated governments request and Austria undertakes that she will make compensation for damage done to civilians and their property in accordance with categories of damage similar to those provided in the treaty with Germany.

Will Decide Damages.
The amount of damages is to be determined by the reparations commission provided for in the treaty with Germany, which is to have a special section to handle the Austrian situation.

The commission will notify Austria before May 1, 1921, of the extent of her liabilities and of the schedule of payments for the discharge thereof during a period of thirty years. It will be in mind the diminutions of Austria's resources and capacity for payment resulting from the treaty.

As immediate reparation, Austria shall pay during 1919, 1920, and the first four months of 1921, in such a manner as provided by the reparations commission, "a reasonable sum which shall be determined by the commission."

Three Bond Issues.

Three bond issues shall be made, the first before May 1, 1921, without interest, the second at 2 1/2 per cent interest, between 1921 and 1926, and thereafter at 5 per cent, with an additional 1 per cent for amortization, beginning in 1924, and a third at 5 per cent when the commission is satisfied that Austria can meet the interest and sinking fund obligations.

The amount shall be decided by the allied and associated governments in proportions determined upon in advance on a basis of general equity.

The Austrian section of the reparations commission shall include representatives of the United States, Great Britain, France, Italy, Greece, Poland, Rumania, the Serbo-Slovakia state, and Czechoslovakia. The first four shall each appoint a delegate with two votes, and the other five shall choose one delegate each year to represent them all. Withdrawal from the commission is permitted on twelve months' notice.

MUST CEDE SHIPPING

Austria, recognizing the right of the allies to ton for ton replacement of all ships lost or damaged in the war, cedes all merchant ships and fishing boats belonging to nationals of the former empire, agreeing to deliver them within two months to the reparations commission. With a view to making good the losses in river tonnage, she agrees to deliver up 20 per cent of her river fleet.

The allied and associated powers require, and Austria undertakes, that in part reparation she will deliver her economic resources to the physical restoration of the invaded areas. Within sixty days of the coming into force of the treaty the governments concerned shall file with the reparations commission lists of animals, machinery, equipment, and the like destroyed by Austria and which the governments desire replaced in kind, and lists of the materials with which they desire construction in Austria for the work of reconstruction, and which shall be reviewed in the light of Austria's ability to meet them.

Animals to Be Given.

As an immediate advance as to animals Austria agrees to deliver within three months after ratification of the treaty, 4,000 milch cows to Italy and 1,000 each to Serbia and Rumania; 1,000 heifers to Italy, 300 to Serbia, and 500 to Rumania; 50 bulls to Italy, 25 each to Serbia and Rumania; 1,000 calves to each of the three nations; 1,000 bullocks to Italy and 500 each to Serbia and Rumania; 3,000 sows to Italy, and 1,000 draught horses and 1,000 sheep to both Serbia and Rumania.

Austria also agrees to give an option for five years as to timber, iron, and magnesite in amounts as nearly equal to the pre-war importations as Austria's resources make possible.

RECORDS, DOCUMENTS

Austria agrees to restore all records, documents, objects of antiquity and art, and all scientific and bibliographical material taken away from the invaded or ceded territories. She will also hand over without delay all official records of the ceded territories and all records, documents, and historical material possessed by public institutions and having a direct bearing on the history of the ceded territories which have been removed during the last ten years, except that for Italy the period shall be from 1861. As to artistic, archaeological, scientific, and historical objects formerly belonging to the Austro-Hungarian government or crown, Austria agrees to negotiate with the state concerned for an amicable arrangement for the return to the districts of origin on terms of reciprocity of any object which ought to form a part of the intellectual patrimony of the ceded districts, and for twenty years to safeguard all other such objects for the free use of students.

Must Restore Stolen Stuff.

As for special objects carried off by the house of Hapsburg and other dynasties from Italy, Belgium, Poland, and Czechoslovakia, a committee of three jurists appointed by the reparations commission is to examine within a year the conditions under which the objects were removed and to order restoration if the removal was illegal. The list of articles includes among others:

For Tuscany, the crown jewels and part of the Medici heirlooms; for Modena "Virgin" by Andrea del Sarto and three manuscripts; for Palermo, twelfth century objects made for the Norman kings; for Naples, ninety-eight manuscripts carried off in 1713; for Belgium, various objects and documents removed in 1794; for Poland, a gold cup of King Ladislaus IV, removed in 1772; and for Czechoslovakia, various documents and historical manuscripts removed from the royal chateau of Prague.

FINANCES

The first charge upon all the assets and revenues of Austria shall be the costs arising under the present treaty, including, in order of priority, the cost of the armies of occupation, reparations and other charges specifically agreed to, and, with certain exceptions, as granted by the reparations commission for payment for imports.

Austria must pay the total cost of the armies of occupation from the armistice, so long as maintained, and may export no gold before May 1, 1921, without consent of the reparations commission.

Each of the states to which Austrian territory is transferred and each of the states arising out of the dismemberment of Austria, including the republic of Austria, shall assume part of the Austrian pre-war debt apportioned to the reparations commission on the basis of the value of the property so transferred.

Similarly, the unsecured bonded pre-war debt of the former empire shall be distributed by the reparations commission in the proportion that the revenues for the three years before the war of the separated territory bore to the revenues of the empire, excluding Bosnia and Herzegovina.

No territory formerly part of the empire, except the republic of Austria, shall carry with it any obligation in respect of the war debt of the former Austrian government.

LOST DOMAINS

States to which Austrian territory was transferred and states arising from the dismemberment of Austria shall acquire all property within their territories of the old or new Austrian governments, including that of the former royal family. The value is to be assessed by the reparations commission and credited to Austria on the reparation account.

Property of predominant historic interest to the former kingdoms of Poland, Bohemia, Croatia, Slavonia, Salmata, Bosnia, Herzegovina, the republic of Ragusa, the Venetian republic, or the Episcopalian principalities of Trent and Bressanone, may be transferred without payment.

No Commercial Advantages.

Austria renounces all rights as to all international, financial, or commercial organizations in allied countries, Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria, Turkey or the former Russian empire. She agrees to expropriate on demand of the reparations commission any rights of her nationals in any public utility or concession in these territories. In separated districts and in mandatory territories, to transfer them to the commission within six months, and to hold herself responsible for indemnifying her nationals so dispossessed.

She also agrees to deliver within one month the gold deposited as security for the Ottoman debt, renounce any benefits accruing from the treaties of Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk, and transfer to the allied and associated governments all claims against her former allies.

Austria shall not be responsible for persons of nationalities of the former empire who have become nationals of other states.

WHY 6 BRITISH VOTES TO U.S. 1? REILLY ASKS

Leader of 'Bucks' Scores League of Nations at Irish Fete.

Two of Chicago's fighting colonels, Henry J. Reilly and John V. Clannin, talked to assembled Irishmen of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at their annual picnic at Gaelic park yesterday, and one of them, Col. Reilly, attacked the proposed league of nations in language that brought the 10,000 audience to its feet in a tumult of cheers.

"Why six British votes to America's one?" he asked.

Col. Clannin was the first speaker and told of the fighting of the American doughboy beside the British Tommy in Flanders.

Admitted Yankee Valor.

"At first they thought," said Col. Clannin, "that the American soldier, representing a nation made up of men from every race on the globe, could not fight. Before we left them to go into the all-American sector northwest of Verdun even the most pro-British Englishman admitted that it was all a question of ideals and nationalism rather than one of blood. It was proved to their satisfaction that courage isn't the attribute of any one race or anything that can be inherited."

Then Father James O'Brien, a chaplain, who returned recently from overseas, announced Col. Reilly would talk on the league of nations.

"League Dodges Fair Play."

"The league of nations," said Col. Reilly, "does not fundamentally follow the American ideal of fair play for everybody. America is for democracy, first, last, and always. And democracy means an equal chance for everyone, what Roosevelt called a 'square deal'."

"The question of the league of nations is not, 'What will it benefit us in trade, in diplomacy or world politics?' The question is, 'Does that league mean the American ideal of democracy?' There are three main points to be considered.

"First comes the question of voting. The United States has one vote, France has one vote. Great Britain has six. The league says, of course, that in assembly all questions must be settled unanimously.

Honor Worth Fighting For.

"But in this country there is one class, and a large class at that, who won't admit that war, horrible as war is, may be better than peace at a price which would force us to yield without honor."

"If on a vote our one vote were cast on one side and Great Britain's six votes on the other, the element of fear would be strong, too strong, I am afraid."

"The second point is in Article 10, where it says members of the league promise to help maintain all other existing governments as they now are, and to take forcible action against the soviet government of Hungary is understood to be due to the belief the military operations, if once begun, would require great numbers of troops, greater than it cared to employ. It is true larger forces are necessary now than three months ago, when a handful of men clothed with authority easily could have taken control of the situation, but it is believed by those dealing with the matter there still is time to turn over the bolshavists by a determined stand announced in unequivocal terms and backed by a display of military strength."

Bolshavism in Hungary is an artificial product and its strength almost wholly confined to Budapest. Even there the majority is against it. People who know are strongly of the opinion Bela Kun and his crowd ought to be ousted by immediate adoption of a vigorous policy involving a minimum of military operations.

The Forces Available.

It is the best opinion that certain prewar demands should be made with reference to the bolshavist regime. To enforce these dependence would not be placed merely in the armies now surrounding Hungary but in other forces of the British from the Rhine and the Italians from the south in sufficient numbers to show the bolshavists the entente means business.

The demands would say Bela Kun's proposals. Simultaneous advance of the entente and the general welfare required its dismissal. They would ask complete disarmament and delivery of war material, and an international commission for military control established until a stable government is set up.

At the same time, it would be made known that the entente is ready and willing to negotiate with such a new Hungarian government as would help Hungary to reestablish itself socially and economically. If demands are not complied with, then military measures would be taken at once.

Demands by Airplane.

The demands of the entente and its desire to restore normal conditions would be made known to the whole country in a proclamation distributed by airplane. The Austrian government is being advised of the entente's proposals. Simultaneous advance of all troops would follow a refusal to listen to this reasonable program. It is known the entente quickly would recognize a Socialist government.

It's torture for lots of people who have bought new shoes. They dread it and keep putting off buying new shoes. But here's a good way to overcome the trouble:

LIFE OR DEATH FATE THIS WEEK FOR PEACE PACT

Believed Senate Is Ready to Settle Controversy.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(Special.)—Whether the peace treaty with or without amendments can be put through the Senate of the United States is likely to be decided in the coming week.

The new phase upon which the controversy has entered opposite leaders say, is one in which the question at issue is not whether the treaty can be changed by direct amendment or by reservations, but whether it can be ratified under any circumstances.

May Oppose Entire Treaty.

Opponents of the league of nations within the last forty-eight hours have assumed a far more aggressive attitude than heretofore, and are maintaining their force in opposition to the entire treaty.

In this fight they will attempt to show that the United States will be in a much better position both with respect to its own interests and its usefulness as a moral force in helping Europe if the treaty is rejected than it can possibly be if the nation becomes more deeply involved in European troubles and makes itself subject to a combination of European nations by joining the league of nations.

Can Observe Obligations.

Obligations imposed upon the United States by the war, it will be urged, can be more effectively observed through diplomatic commissions representing the United States instead of through actual membership in the league was offered by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania at the outset of the controversy and will be urged by him in connection with his motion to separate the league of nations provisions from the rest of the treaty.

Democrats to Give In?

One of the Democratic leaders said today that there would be no objection from the president to reservations of interpretation the senate's understanding of the various provisions of the agreement.

Since the Democrats know that the majority of the senate will not accept any such proposal as this, some of the opposition senators insist that the Democrats are prepared to go much farther than they admit and are hoping to conciliate, by actual changes in the document, enough senators to make ratification possible.

The president, having been informed by Republican leaders that the treaty will certainly be rejected unless satisfactory reservations are adopted, is expected to make some move which may stem the tide of opposition. What form this will take no one is prepared to predict.

Democrats are scheduled to do most of the talking in the senate this week. Half a dozen of them have given notice of speeches.

SIX IN FAMILY PARTY KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Milwaukee, Wis., July 20.—Six persons were killed and three injured this afternoon when a crowded automobile, stalled on the tracks of the Northwestern railway on the Silver Springs road, north of here, was struck by a fast passenger train.

The dead are Dionis Chafala, 31; Gustave, 9; Panofola, 5; Stathy, 4; Chafala's children, and Mrs. Gustave Chafala, 27, and Polonia, her 8 year old daughter. Chafala's wife and two other children escaped with minor injuries. The dead woman was a sister-in-law of the dead man.

There were riotous scenes in Cork Saturday night, which culminated in a regular battle between the police and a mob. Revolvers were used by both sides. A policeman received a bullet wound in the thigh and several soldiers were maltreated.

BERLIN Prepares to Cope with Threatened Strikes

BERLIN, July 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Minister of Defense Noske has forbidden the use of the Lustgarten and Schlossplatz for open air meetings tomorrow. Therefore there is likely to be bloodshed in connection with the threatened strike situation, however, is not clear, the majorities insisting that there will be no strike. But the electrical workers already have decided to go on strike from 8 o'clock in the morning to 8 o'clock at night.

FRANCE AND U.S. AGREE ON PRICE FOR U. S. STORES

(BY RICHARD V. OULAHAN, Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.)

PARIS, July 19.—(Delayed.)—The American and French governments have at last come to an agreement on the price to be paid by France for the American military stores, buildings, railroads, and material. The price is still secret, but it is higher than $800,000 offered by France, which the United States rejected.

The French press continues to repeat that the United States military authorities in France are burning and otherwise destroying American stores rather than sell them at small profit to the French government. It has been shown that such stores as were destroyed were utterly worthless and could not be sold. Among them were some motor cars which were so decrepit as to be useless or so soaked as to be dangerous.

Sold Since the Armistice.

I am able to give figures on the substance supplies sold by the United States army to the European governments since the armistice. These do not include material embraced in the omnibus deal just ended with the French government.

The statement furnished me shows that of the substance supplies sold since the armistice France bought $28,000,000 worth at a cost of $22,640,130; the Czechoslovak government $3,000,000 pounds at $18,442,530; Poland, $3,359,000 pounds at $3,271,850; Belgium, the amount of the supplies not stated, paid $987,000; Rumania, $5,400,000 pounds at $11,254,000; and Estonia $1,910,000 pounds at $1,132,500.

SOLDIER CHARGES BIG WASTE.

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—(Special.)—Vast waste of American material in France is charged by Serg. Lucius Barnett, of Detroit, who served with a motor transport corps in France, and who has made written charges to the United States senate.

"I am not actuated by spite in making these revelations," Serg. Barnett said. "There is possibly $25,000,000 more American war material in France that can be saved if the authorities will take the matter in hand and investigate such waste. The American people must insist that it be done."

Destruction at Verneuil.

"I am from the main supply depot at army postoffice No. 772, Verneuil, France, where millions of dollars' worth of supplies were shipped for distribution."

"The last month I was in France I was a noncommissioned officer in charge of a fire detail which destroyed something like $1,000,000 worth of material. It is my desire to make known to the proper authorities the manner in which this material was destroyed. I have seen trucks and ambulances plucked into the flames that were in running condition, with the exception of a wheel or some minor part missing."

FREE-FOR-ALL IN DUBLIN AND CORK

DUBLIN, July 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Two soldiers walking on the Quay yesterday evening were chased by a large crowd, which tried to throw one of them into the Liffey. As a police sergeant intervened the report of a revolver was heard and the sergeant fell, wounded in the back. The police charged the mob at various points and afterward sixteen patients were treated at the Jervis street hospital.

There were riotous scenes in Cork Saturday night, which culminated in a regular battle between the police and a mob. Revolvers were used by both sides. A policeman received a bullet wound in the thigh and several soldiers were maltreated.

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING. (Washington Bureau of The Tribune.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 20.

Republican leaders in congress have reached a decision to postpone indefinitely the question of granting independence to the Philippines. The decision followed the recent hearing given the Philippine commission at a joint session of the senate and house insular affairs committees. Members of the committee, it is said, were not sufficiently impressed with the showing made to vote in favor of freeing the islands at this time.

Official Washington, aroused over the recent assault and robbery by armed Mexicans of American sailors from the monitor Cheyenne on the Tameal river near Tampico, are awaiting detailed reports of the incident from Commander Flinn of the cruiser Topaka in Mexican waters, and for a reply from Carranza to the note of urgent representations over the incident sent by the state department yesterday. Members of congress, already aroused over continued assaults and murders of American citizens, are preparing to agitate the Mexican situation again and a crisis may be imminent. It is known that some of the president's advisers are urging him to order the policy of toleration toward Mexico and to intervene, establishing a protectorate until a government can be developed which will respect American life and property and the flag. The army and navy, it is said, are ready for any undertaking that may be ordered.

Correspondence reaching Republican senators from all parts of the country, chiefly from the middle west, shows an increase in sentiment against the league of nations, and a demand that the real issue, "shall America preserve her independence or surrender it to the league?" shall be faced by Democrats and Republicans alike. Many cryptic paraphrases of patriotic utterances appear in the correspondence.

Has Not to Dominate.

Throughout the war Gompers refused to attend conferences with the Germans. He told the United Press today:

"They ought to be gratified not to be treated equally. We do not propose to be exacting with them, but we do propose to take the international headquarters away from Germany."

Leaders of the federation plan to a statement issued by that organization and new world-wide labor conditions with particular reference to the labor convention in the year

SHIPOWNERS REFUSE TO HIRE STRIKEBREAKERS

New York, July 20.—Strikebreakers will not be employed by the American Steamship association to man ships affected by the marine strike, according to a statement issued by that organization tonight. Its members asserted they preferred to have their ships remain idle.

Union leaders intimated today they might accept a compromise suggested by the boat owners who, while ready to grant a "closed shop" last week, informed the strikers they would give first preference to American seamen and second to union men.

BUILDER UNIONS NAME SIX TO ASK END OF LOCKOUT

Parley with Contractors On Today; Carpenters Remain Out.

Negotiations will be opened this afternoon by representatives of the Chicago Building Trades council, in an effort to end the lockout of more than 100,000 workers.

President Simon O'Donnell announced last night the names of members of a committee who will confer with the contractors at 2 o'clock this afternoon in an effort to adjust the troubles between the contractors and the carpenters, who demand wages of $1 an hour and were the cause of the lockout.

The members of the committee are: M. J. Boyle of the electricians, Edward O'Donnell of the plumbers, Joseph V. Morehead of the building laborers, William Gunther of the gas fitters, Charles M. Kane of the steamfitters.

President O'Donnell, who will go with them, said he had added another member to the committee "for luck," as the resolutions adopted by the council after a heated meeting Friday night called for only five to act as peace makers.

Act for All Trades. The members represent disinterested trades, in a way, but are vitally interested, as all the members of their own trades are out of work, due to the lockout, and there has been a great howl from trades other than the carpenters.

The contractors ordered the lockout of all the building workers, following a strike called by the carpenters when their demands for $1 an hour wage were refused. The carpenters were offered $24 cents an hour, a raise of $1 a day, which had been granted to a large number of the other trades, but were not satisfied.

The contractors said they would suspend all work until the carpenters accepted what was offered, while the latter say they will stay out until the $1 an hour is granted. They have been getting 80 cents, and their contract has two years to run.

"We might as well stand together with the contractors and settle it tomorrow," said President O'Donnell last night. "We are going to try our best for all the building workers are out of jobs, due to the lockout."

Carpenters Stand Fast. William Brims, president of the carpenters' district council, said the carpenters would stand fast. "Saturday night's meeting showed the determination of the carpenters to stay out until the strike is settled on our terms," said Brims. "The negotiations were unanimous, and that should quiet the trades council's charges that the men were not back of the strike. We are placing our men and do not expect a lockout to effect 3,000 carpenters."

"The charge the carpenters were the cause of the lockout is not true. The iron workers and others were attempting to get new agreements with a higher wage, and the lockout was prompted by that, not by the carpenters' demands alone."

GUARDS FIRED ON AT ARGO SEIZE ONE AS BOMBER

Threats to Dynamite Homes Believed Thwarted.

Deputy sheriffs are believed to have broken up the threatened bombing of the homes of several loyal employees of the Corn Products Refining company at Argo last night with the arrest of a strike leader, who fired five shots at them as they were guarding the home of a foreman whose name was alleged to have been placed on the "death list" by the strikers.

A crowd of angry strikers attempted to wrest the prisoner from the deputies, but no more trouble was reported after the seizure of the man.

According to Deputy Sheriff Joseph A. Thoney, who has charge of the ninety deputies assigned to guard the plant, fifteen foremen and other directors of the laborers at the factory had been blacklisted by the strikers and were to suffer for their loyalty to the company by having their homes destroyed.

Valued threats had been made to a number of the foremen by strike sympathizers during Sunday, he said, and authentic information had reached him assuring him that the strikers intended to carry out their threats.

The suspicion of the deputies was increased by the holding of a mass meeting in the union hall at Argo yesterday afternoon, the purpose of which could not be learned.

STRIKE AT ARGO STIRS UPROAR IN LABOR MEETING

Leader and Chief of Machinists Clash on Walkout.

Bitter charges, retorts of "har," outbursts of profanity—that was how the Federation of Labor learned of the Argo strike situation yesterday.

The outcry started when Joseph Banas, president of the Argo union, related his version of the strike riot in which three men lost their lives. Declaring the 2,500 workers are out and will stay out, he concluded with an arraignment of the machinist agent, "Schoenberg, whom we took out of the gutter," and a declaration that twenty-six union machinists are working in the Corn Products company plant, "taking in the strike breakers and the guards with them."

When C. A. Schoenberg, machinists' business agent, replied, he included criticism of the conduct of the strike. Banas and J. E. Davidson, secretary of the Argo union, then laid down a verbal barrage that silenced the machinists' works. The quarrel was calmed by referring the matter to the executive committee of the federation.

Banas' detail of the strike provoked applause when he assailed the newspapers. "Comrades, I'm not hoarse addressing the Argo workers and urging them to stay out," he insisted, "but I am hoarse from talking to the damnable reporters of the capitalist press."

An Angel with a Hammer. "You read in those papers of the 'angel of mercy.' She was—with a hammer. Why, she drove an automobile into the crowd, and I leaped into it and tore off the back seat of the tonneau, and there were guns and ammunition she was smuggling in."

It was announced in the lobby of the chamber of deputies that not only will Victor Boret be succeeded by Joseph J. B. E. Noulon as food minister, but that Albert F. Lebrun, minister of the liberated regions, will be succeeded by Senator Charles Jonnart, now governor of Algeria, Lebrun taking Jonnart's post.

LABOR NOTES

Six hundred employees of the Alton, Elgin and Chicago railroad have voted to strike if their demands of 87 cents an hour are not granted. The conductors and motormen now have a maximum wage of 46 cents an hour. The demands have been sent to L. J. Wolf of Cleveland, O., president of the company, but no reply has been received yet.

The painters of Roseland, South Chicago, Chicago Heights, and Blue Island have been consolidated into one union. Joseph Moennich is their business agent.

Frank P. Flynn, president of the International Brotherhood of Railroad Police, is in the city for the purpose of organizing the special police employed by the railroads.

President Simon O'Donnell of the Chicago Building Trades council says he is thinking himself of striking. "I live only 100 feet from the lake and I have only 30 minutes to get to work, due to telephone calls and union men who want to see me," he said last night.

Several hundred hair spinners employed by the packing firms at the stockyards are on strike for more wages.

The bank clerks' union recently started by William I. Bost, charges the banks are trying to hinder it by granting the clerks small increases in pay.

John Feldman, chairman of the strike committee of the Knit Goods Workers' union, says 2,000 members are going to walk out of sixteen factories this week because the employers refuse to grant a forty-four hour week and more pay.

COMPROMISE IN TRACTION CRISIS NOW PROBABLE

State Board Likely to Raise Fares, Men to Cut Demand.

Members of the city council appointed by the mayor to sit on the arbitration board, said yesterday that the question of consolidating the hearings of the arbitration board with the utilities commission would be brought up at the board's preliminary meeting this noon.

Ignore Federal Bureau. The offer of the bureau of mediation and conciliation of the department of labor will not be accepted by the union or the city unless new developments occur.

Erington I. Budd, president of the elevated lines, said he would ask the union officials through the mayor's arbitration board to be permitted to delay submitting to their employees the report which was scheduled for this evening.

FIRE ISSUE UP TODAY
Settlement of the increased wage demands of the city fire engineers and their assistants will be up to Mayor Thompson, according to statements expressed yesterday by members of the appointed grievance committee.

James Hanna, president of the committee, said yesterday the organization represented by the committee would insist on an increase at the arbitration board hearing today. What means the city took to pay this increase would be a problem for the mayor's solution. This opinion also was offered by J. C. Sarter, another member of the grievance committee.

Neither members of the committee were notified yesterday when the meeting of the arbitration board would be held, except that it would be some time during the day.

Department Again Normal. No announcement was made by the mayor as to the appointment of the two councilmen who are to sit on the arbitration board. Besides the two councilmen, the committee is to consist of Fire Marshal Thomas O'Connor and two members of the grievance committee.

Chief O'Connor visited his offices yesterday and conferred with his assistants, who reported that every one of the engineers and their assistants who went on a sixteen hour "strike" Saturday reported back to their engine houses. The chief said the department was back to normal condition again.

The two firemen of Engine 104, who had been suspended, were reinstated and put back to work.

Say Funds Are Lacking. "I don't know how the city will meet the demands of the engineers as there is no way whereby more funds can be provided for the department," said the chief.

Despite the statements of the finance committee, stating their reasons for rejecting the engineers' demands, both Hanna and Sarter were of the opinion that the arbitration board would grant a raise in salary, and that the mayor would see that the finance committee would not be permitted to reject the findings of the board.

SILESIA VOTERS WANT REGION TO BE U. S. COLONY

Both Poles and Germans, Busy Electioneering, Dubious About Result.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(By Special Cable.)
(Copyright 1919, by the Tribune Company.)
BEUTHEN, Upper Silesia, July 20.—While waiting for the plebiscite which will decide whether Upper Silesia remains German or goes to Poland, a busy electioneering campaign is being carried on by both sides. Neither the Germans nor the Poles seem confident of success. The Germans are confident of carrying the industrial towns, but admit that the country will vote solidly for Polish annexation.

There is a widespread belief that when a plebiscite is taken the voter is free to name any country he chooses. Dozens of people have assured me they intend to vote for the United States. The notion of making Upper Silesia a colony of the United States is very popular, and America is going to get a powerful big vote.

Germans Want Yanks. The Germans are very anxious for American troops to come in and to occupy the country until a plebiscite is taken. Rumors are continually flying around that Americans are either on the way or have actually arrived.

The Germans are afraid, or at least say they are afraid, that Gen. Haller's Polish army will suddenly cross the border and occupy the country. They declare that if this happens the patriotic German workmen in the mines will let water into the mines and ruin them. They say the presence of the American soldiers would insure that Gen. Haller's army would be kept out and prevent destruction to the greatest coal fields in Europe.

The Germans also say that the Poles, becoming doubtful of winning the plebiscite, may rise and seize the country with the idea that, the fact being accomplished, the entire will recognize Upper Silesia as a part of Poland without further delay. Some of the Polish leaders I have talked to have also hinted the same thing.

Mines Working Now. But at present in the district everything is very peaceful. The mines are working, but at much less than half capacity. Workmen are continually striking for higher wages, although being paid an average of 20 marks a day, while before the war the wages ran between 4 and 7 marks a day.

Communist and Socialist agitators are holding meetings in the mines every day and the mines are very restless. The miners also are very silent on account of lack of food and clothing. They are bewildered because of doubt about the future of the country. One reason I think that the German miners and managers are so silent is that they are not so much afraid of Polish invasion as they think the entire will compel the miners to go to work. They are walking out on strike every day and the mines are silent and hanging around the border and communist orators. One mine manager said to me: "American troops would make the miners keep at work, wouldn't they?"

Miners Bar Soldiers. Mines are not permitted to keep German soldier guards now. If a mine manager takes German soldiers, the miners immediately walk out. I told a mine manager if the Americans came, they would preserve law and order and protect property, but I doubted if they would compel the men to work at the point of the bayonet. This did not satisfy the manager. He seemed to think that if the Americans could not make the miners stay on the job they might as well not come.

Martial law has stopped all public meetings, except those the miners have. Soldiers cannot stop there because miners throw them out. If they come nosing around, Polish and German electioneers out to win the plebiscite make a house to house canvass. The Germans say the Poles offer every man who votes for Poland a house, garden, cow and 1,000 marks. The Poles say the Germans offer the same and throw in a suit, a calf, a suit of clothes, and a round trip ticket to Berlin.

The campaign seems to be fairly good natured; in fact, they get lots madder in the Twenty-fifth ward in Chicago over the election of an alderman than they do here in deciding whether Upper Silesia stays German or goes to Poland.

THREE FIREMEN ARE INJURED AS FLOOR GIVES WAY

Three firemen, members of the engine company No. 74, were injured last night while attempting to extinguish a fire which destroyed the building of the National Life company at One Hundred and Second street and the Lake Shore railway tracks.

They were on the fourth floor of the building, which is a five-story structure, when the floor gave way. They fell through the third floor to the second, where they were rescued by other members of the company.

The injured are: Charles Nonley, overcome by smoke. Albert Williams, ribs fractured. William Feltz, internal injuries. Martin Costello, a citizen, was aiding the firemen, was also injured slightly. All four men were taken to the South Chicago hospital by the local ambulance.

The cause of the fire is not known. The damage is estimated at $25,000.

GREEKS REJOICE WHEN 'BIG FOUR' RESTORE CORFU

Allied Flags Hauled Down; Italians Silent as the People Jeer.

BY LADISLAV CZAPSKY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Special Correspondent.)

CORFU, June 21.—(By Courier to Paris.)—At the sun went down yesterday, to the solemn booming of guns in the harbor, accompanied by prolonged, frantic cheers from thousands upon thousands, the British, French, and Italian flags were slowly lowered from the two old fortresses, and with their disappearance from their lofty staffs ceased the mastery of the allied powers over Corfu.

For the people of Greece, the moment was historic, and to those who watched it was impressive. Whatever else they may not do, I have lived among the Greeks long enough to realize how their affection for this paradise of an island is deep and genuine, and Corfu women—one of them the wife of a celebrated Greek general—weep for joy.

Ordered by Big Four.
By order of the Big Four, control of this naval base has today passed to Greece. After repeated postponements the official date for the evacuation was recently fixed by the waiting foreign powers, British, French, and Italian military and naval representatives made their formal farewell visits to Marcos Tsirimokos, prefect of Corfu.

Arrangements were immediately started for the salute of the allied flags and crowds began to assemble along the esplanade facing the citadel. As the moment of sunset approached a hush came over the waiting throngs. Then the guns boomed forth and the Greek military band struck up "God Save the King." The crowds still cheering wildly, another Greek band played the "Marseillaise" and next came the Italian royal march and the Greek national anthem.

Guard Presents Arms.
As the bands played, a company of British marines and a platoon of Greek infantrymen, facing the descending flags immovably, presenting arms. In front of the troops, and headed by Gen. S. Mouscopoulos, commander of the island, French, British, and Greek officers were gathered, each stiffly at the salute. Admiral Dumesnil, commanding the French fleet in Ionian waters, had his chief of staff among them.

Cretan warriors, in their fantastic costumes, added color to the group, already rich with spotless duck uniforms, with khaki and horizon blue. Lieut. Col. Walter Hume, who was present as British liaison officer.

Society Out in Force.
Near the saluting officers stood groups of Corfu society folk, the men with their heads reverently uncovered, while beyond, as far as the eye could carry, under the trees of the park, the people of Corfu waved white handkerchiefs and cheered.

Men of many colors, assembled from both hemispheres, pressed toward the central spot for a better view, and little boys climbed like squirrels to the tops of cypresses, tossing up their caps and yelling.

Mingling with the mob were Negroes from Martinique, Algerians, spahi, coolies from Tonchin—men of all the picturesque races and lands that the war has brought together here in Corfu.

Greek Colors Hoisted.
Today gaily clad throngs again filled the large green square along the esplanade, and thousands of handkerchiefs fluttered in the brilliant sun from the windows of the tall white houses beyond, where the national colors of Greece were hoisted over the two citadels.

After the ceremony an old English speaking Corfiote, who remained the day, back in the 60s, when the British ceded the Ionian islands to Greece, told me that never had he seen so many faces beaming with satisfaction.

With this morning's salute to the Greek flag the ceremonial of returning Corfu to Greek control is completed. The diplomatic part of the transfer has encountered no difficulties, I am told.

Italian Uniform Absent.
Not a single Italian in uniform could be seen. Gen. Prospero Mirro, commander of the Italian station here, officers of his staff, the Italian consul, and several other members of the Italian colony were gathered at the citadel occupied by Italian troops across the harbor.

There was deep silence while the Italian national flag was given. Played in alphabetical order, the Italian hymn came third, and the throngs suddenly lapsed into an attitude of indifference. This mark of hostility toward official Italy probably was the reason that no Italian soldiers were in the streets.

All day long boys shrieked "Kulcury-lu," and those who heard knew what the little rascals meant.

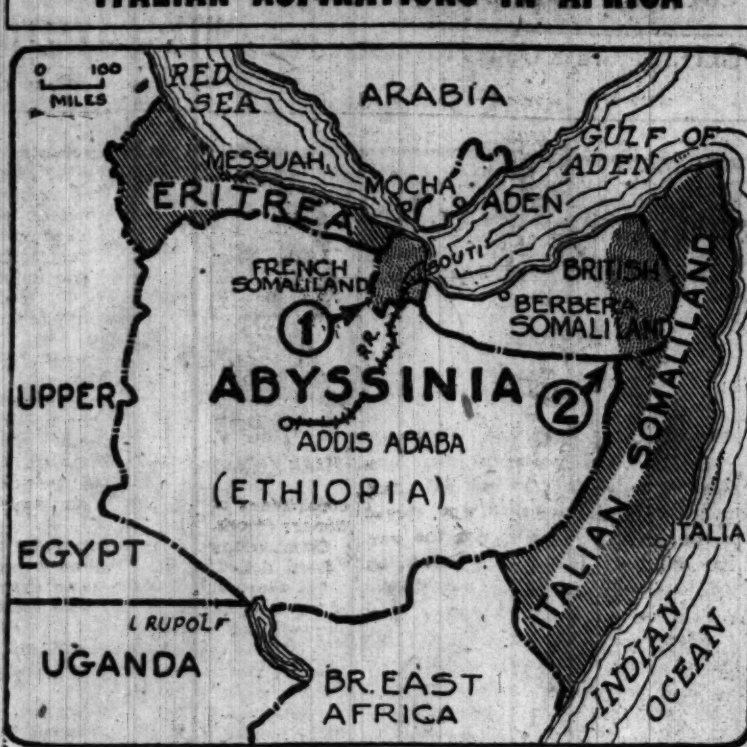

The Rooster Finally Crows.
For the tale is that early in the war, when asked how long the Italian would stay, an Italian warrior pointed to a wooden rooster on top of a public building, saying: "We go when that rooster crows."

Well, the rooster crows so that all the town heard him and the Greeks smiled. Anxious to avoid punishment for an excessive display of feeling, a party of Greek fishermen rowed far out into the bay and intoned a farewell city to the Italians.

Afghans Defeat British Convoy Traveling in India

SIMLA, British India, July 20.—The Afghans resumed their attacks at various points in the Khyber region July 16, in strong force. It is estimated 4,000 attacked a British convoy moving from Lakband to Fort Sandeman. After fighting throughout the night, the Afghans captured the convoy and two guns. Four British officers were killed and two wounded. There were about 100 casualties among the Indian ranks. When they saw virtually all the British officers casualties the native transport drivers bolted.

ITALIAN ASPIRATIONS IN AFRICA

Italy is asking for a share in the African spoils taken from Germany by the allies. According to the famous treaty of London, Italy was to have a share of the colonies in case the other nations took any. She is now claiming French Somaliland (1), whose chief port is Jibouti. France, the Italians say, is getting enormous territory in the Kanem, and can well afford to cede this small colony. They also are claiming a portion of British Somaliland (2). The Italian possessions in East Africa are shown on the map in red.

VON LUDENDORFF BLAMES PEOPLE FOR WAR DEFEAT

"Didn't Respond" to His Plans Only to "Defend" Germany.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright) 1919. By the Tribune Company.

BERLIN, July 20.—Angered by what he calls a French forgery, Field Marshal von Ludendorff today disclosed an important part of his personal connection with German preparations which until now he had reserved for his book to be issued this fall.

The marshal brands as pure invention a German document published in the French yellow book, the authorship of which is credited to him. He not only says he never wrote it, but he charges no German ever conceived the thought it contains. To clinch the argument he offers a copy of a memorandum of similar nature which he did write, and which differs materially from the one in the yellow book.

The Marshal's Case.

The document which he charges is forged is one bearing the date of March 19, 1913, which recommends that Germany launch a war of conquest and predicts certain victory. The memorandum of March 19, 1913, which recommends that Germany launch a war of conquest and predicts certain victory. ## U.S. TO SPEED UP DIRIGIBLE WORK FOR SEA FLIGHTS

Ocean Trips Are Feasible, Admiral Benson Declares.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)

Washington, D. C., July 20.—(Special.)—One certain result of the visit of the British dirigible R-34 to the United States and its successful home-ward flight will be speeding up of the development of rigid dirigibles in the United States.

"The round trip of the R-34 demonstrated the practicability of trans-Atlantic flight through the air in large dirigibles," said Admiral Benson, chief of naval operations, today.

"Congress has authorized the navy to build large dirigible balloons and acquire or build two dirigibles."

"We are going ahead with the important development. There was no real question as to the practicability of dirigibles for long distance flight before the flight of the R-34, but much remained to be learned. The successful flight removed any lingering doubt that it was entirely feasible to cross the Atlantic in this type of craft."

The navy will proceed with its usual caution. At the outset our large dirigibles will be used for experimental purposes. Our aim from the outset will be to improve on existing types. We already have all the required data."

daily schedules will show United States mail from New York to San Francisco in thirty-six hours, Otto Prager, head of the airplane mail system now connecting Washington, New York, Cleveland, and Chicago, said today. He also declared government plans are being prepared by which airplanes will carry all but approximately 30 per cent of the millions of pounds of mail now handled by the railroads.

Shakeup in Capital Dues.
The entire aviation program of the United States is due for a shakeup, was intimated by officers of the Aquitania, which arrived today, who had talked with Benedict Crowell, first assistant secretary of war.

While Secretary Crowell would not be quoted, it was learned that it was contemplated taking away the army and navy branches and putting them under one head, and that a new member of the cabinet will probably be created.

IRELAND RULER'S REPLY TO DUNNE DETAILS DENIALS

Parallels Allegations and Facts, Asserting 'All Charges False.'

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—The report of the Irish-American commission, Messrs. Walsh and Dunne, on conditions in Ireland, is dealt with in detail in the answering statement of Ian MacPherson, chief secretary for Ireland, the full text of which has just been received in Washington.

Under the headings "Allegations" and "Facts," the statement of the chief secretary presents the charges made by the Irish-American delegates and the government's replies thereto, the two documents being printed paragraph by paragraph in parallel columns.

Summary of Reply.
Charges of cruelty in the treatment of prisoners are denied absolutely and in detail. The incident at Westport is explained. Ireland is shown not only to have an educational system, but one which depends for its maintenance on the United Kingdom taxpayer. Some interesting history is given of the rebellion of 1916, and others convicted of pro-German activities, all of whom have now been released, and the reply concludes with the following "allegations" [a] and "facts" [f]:

[a] With a ferocity unparalleled even in the history of modern warfare, within the last few days, men and women have been shot down in the streets of Dublin.
[f] Unfortunately, four policemen and a girl have been so shot in the streets of Dublin within the past few days by a number of Sinn Féin men, who are now being shot down from the police.

Issued in Eight Days.
The government's reply was issued from Dublin castle June 14, eight days after the publication of the Walsh-Dunne report. The reply sets forth the "allegations" and "facts" in part as follows:

[a] Crossing the Irish sea from Holyhead to Dunlough, we came upon the first evidence of the military occupation of Ireland. The vessels and shores were swarmed with soldiers, fully equipped for the field, going to and coming from Dublin.
[f] On this date 178 men were demobilized and left Ireland; sixty-five men (Irishmen) for demobilization arrived in Ireland on the same day. No soldiers were sent to reinforce the demobilized men.

[a] There are approximately 18,000 members of the Royal Irish constabulary. The constabulary is a branch of the military forces. They are armed with rifles, as well as small arms, and are engaged in regular drill and field maneuvers. They are never residents of the districts which they occupy, and have quarters in regular government barracks.

[a] The strength of the royal Irish constabulary is 9,432 men. It is not a branch of the military forces of the crown, though armed with rifles and small arms; it practices drill but not field maneuvers. The men are not natives of the districts in which they serve; the unmarried members live in small police barracks, and the married men sometimes in private houses.

Mount Joy's Inquiries.
[a] Mount Joy prison contained a large number of political prisoners, many of them men of the highest character and standing.
[f] At the date of the visit of the delegates to Mount Joy prison, the total number of so-called "political prisoners" was twenty-two persons, consisting of one blundering man, one maker, one carpenter, one coach builder, one carter, one cycle and motor dealer, one engine driver, one factory hand, four farmers, two fitters, two laborers, one machine fitter, one messenger, one news vendor, one plater's helper, one shop assistant, one storekeeper, one tailor, two university students, and one of no occupation.

Treatment of Prisoners.
[a] The political prisoners were confined for the most part in groups, the majority of them being looked up in steel cages built in the yards of the prison entirely outside of the buildings proper. These cages were exact duplicates of those used for wild animals in the larger zoological gardens.
[f] There is no foundation for this allegation. Each prisoner has a property equipped cell in the prison block, high walls, but these enclosures in no way resemble cages in zoological gardens.

[a] The delegates, upon being informed that there was a large number of prisoners confined in a smaller region in the town of Westport, any that cruelties were being practiced upon them, endeavored to visit Westport, but were prevented by the military authorities from entering. Many of the persons the delegates met in the vicinity corroborated the stories of brutal treatment to which prisoners in Westport were being subjected, the details being horrible beyond belief.

[f] If any such information were given to the delegates it was pure invention. There is, in fact, no prison at Westport.

Visit to Westport.
[a] We announced our intention of visiting Westport. Shortly before the departure of our train on the following evening two policemen appeared at our apartments and handed us an unsigned typewritten letter notifying us that we would not be permitted to enter the town of Westport, the only answer given being that "it was within a military area." We proceeded, nevertheless, to Westport. As we approached the town a company of soldiers met us about three miles out, and the lieutenant announced in a surly tone that under no circumstances would we be permitted to enter. We demanded to see the colonel, to whom we showed our passports, repeated the through Sir William Wiseman, to the effect that he wanted to visit all of Ireland, explained that we were conducting an investigation under the authority of the prime minister.

That revolting conditions existed at Westport. The colonel, however, declared that he would take the full responsibility of not complying with the request of even so high a personage as the prime minister of England, though he stated that he was acting on orders of the government officials in Dublin.

Denies Interference.
[a] The Irish government did not interfere with their arranged program. The visit of the delegates to Westport did not form part of their original program and on their return to Dublin, when they decided, for provocative reasons, as they admit, to proceed to Westport, they were notified by the chief secretary that they would not be allowed to enter that district, which had been declared a special military area.

FLAMES MENACE LOWER PART OF UPPER MICHIGAN
Detroit, Mich., July 20.—Bush fires are again reported menacing in parts of the upper peninsula and the northern portion of the lower peninsula of Michigan. From Manistowick it is reported that a fire has made it difficult to check the fire, which are burning on three sides of the town.

Bad fires are reported in the district between Petoskey and Charlevoix, north of Traverse City and north of Harbor Beach. Guards have been stationed to prevent the flames encroaching on the small resorts.

Smoke Hides Southern Idaho.
Boise, Idaho, July 20.—Forested areas in the eastern section of the Thunder mountain region of southern Idaho are hidden by a canopy of smoke and there is no way to estimate the number of new fires.

Lookouts in the Sawtooth national forest overlooking the burning timber reported that the smoke may be screening many large fires.

The governor's office has received a wire from Addison T. Smith, congressman from Idaho, that he will introduce Monday morning an emergency bill asking for an appropriation of $1,000,000 to fight forest fires in this and adjoining states.

Representatives from Washington, Oregon, and Montana are said to be cooperating to rush through the measure.

EXMOOR GIVES WELCOME HOME TO ITS HEROES

Military Ball Offers a Gay Spectacle and Varied Styles.

BY MAUDE MARTIN EVERS.
The Exmoor Country club gave a welcome home military ball Saturday, in honor of its members who served in the army and navy during the war. The dancing was in the open air, on their new cement floor—just completed.

Of course, of course, the ball being military, also formal, the grand opening crashed through the summer night with the "Star-Spangled Banner." All the high ranking officials of the Great Lakes, Fort Sheridan, and all the Illinois colonels were there, as well as gobs and gobs of gobs doing post duties and the like, and by now you must know that the "Star-Spangled Banner" was rendered impressively.

Miss Darch Sings.
Miss Edna Darch, now singing at Ravinia park, sang the words in her clearest soprano. The excuse for this patriotic outburst was the presentation of a large silk flag to the club and a bronze tablet, and a perpetual silver cup to be played for every Nov. 11. A speech was made by the president of Exmoor, Percy B. Eckhart. The speech was as speeches always are, not an exciting part of the program, but proper and usual.

Not one gob fainter or flustered as he stood the long "tenor."
The ladies were draped artistically about in the beautiful summer colors, sequins and silver sashes, some wore floppy flaming hats, and some wore the high Spanish combs, and some wore a simple marcel on their heads.

Variety of Styles.
For varieties of fashion the men were as interesting a spectacle as the ladies. Percy was attired in pure and faultless white, from tip to toe. Some of the younger male members wore the upper part of formal evening garb, black silk waistcoat and neck black tie with the white flannel trousers, and some in the low black oxford with broad bow ties.

That is to say, a few did—the rest were mostly in uniform. Uniforms of all description, gliding about upon the dancing floor and intermingling with the brilliant butterfly colors of the ladies' gowns, made the scene wonderfully attractive, but upon being questioned the soldiers admitted that the

MORE CRUELITIES OF 'HARD BOILED' SMITH REVEALED

THE TRIBUNE'S account of the activities of Lieut. "Hard Boiled" Smith, the officer who made the army prison near Paris a horror chamber for American soldiers picked up by the military police, was "too mild," Harry G. Green, 1248 South Albany avenue, who has just returned from overseas, declares. Green, an army field clerk, was appointed chief historian of the expeditionary forces.

Commenting on the prison under the "Hard Boiled" Smith regime, he said: "It resembled the Prussian system of tortures. Innocent men were beaten, starved, and robbed."

Smith, according to Green, "got up an appetite for breakfast" by beating defenseless prisoners.

"He would order a formation as early as 3 a. m.," Green declared, "and when the men assembled he would curse them, announcing himself as the famous Hard Boiled Smith of Oklahoma." Then, after deliberately knocking a man down, he would turn to the prisoner next in line and ask: "Did you see him fall?" If he received an affirmative reply he would shout: "You—[censored]—if you were looking the right way you wouldn't see him!" Down would go the man addressed. The next in line, asked if he saw his comrade fall, probably would say "No," whereupon Smith would knock him down, with the remark: "If you'd been looking the right way you'd have seen him."

uniform is not the coolest garb to wear to a ball.
Col. Henry Reilly appeared to be enjoying himself in the conventional black.

Offering a Practical Reason.
When asked about his Rainbow suit, among other reasons said he, why he did not wear his khaki trousers, was because "his collar was too hot."

Col. Horatio B. Hackett of the 124th field artillery missed few dances, regardless of his high collar.
But then he is the colonial who was wounded in four places at Argonne—a shell tore into his jaw, his chest and back, and notwithstanding, he walked a mile to his car, drove over terrible roads to the base hospital, was operated on there, and then drove to Paris over miles of bumpy roads, and lived to attend this dance.

Some of the boxholders were Mrs. J. McGregor Adams, W. A. Alexander, Britton L. Budd, M. J. Insull, Allan M. Clement, C. H. Swift, E. F. White, Arthur Reynolds, and C. F. Swift. The boxes were in three classes—$20, $50, and $100.

LIGGETT HOME; FOR UNIVERSAL TRAINING IN U. S.

New York, July 20.—Lieut. Gen. Hunter Liggett, organizer of the 1st American army corps, later its commander in the Argonne, and finally head of the army of occupation, is home. He arrived today on the Aquitania with the first contingent of the regular army to return.

Liggett, next to Gen. Pershing, is universally credited in military circles with the success attending American operations in France.

"I have returned with the idea in mind that America must work out some system of universal military training," he said. "Our experience in Europe has convinced me that the government can combine military training of its soldiers with vocational education, and it should be done."

"I would say a year's combination training, using the big cantonments, would be the most practical thing," Gen. Liggett was emphatic in his praise of the American soldier.

COMMERCE BODY ACTS TO FOSTER SAVINGS CLUBS

Members of the Chicago Association of Commerce are being urged by President Harry H. Merrick and General Secretary Joseph H. Dion to form savings societies in their institutions.

"There is but one way to learn thrift," the association officials point out in a letter sent to all members, "and that is to spend wisely and save regularly. The war savings stamp is designed to make this regular saving easy. Group action helps the incentive. It is hard for the individual alone to do without anything, but when his associates are with him in the effort to get for themselves the maximum value of every dollar, saving becomes fashionable, and the individual does not feel the martyrdom that is sure to discourage him if acting alone."

DENY FREEDOM TO FILIPINOS, PORTO RICANS

G. O. P. in Congress to Devote Their Time to Ireland.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., July 20.—(Special.)—The Republican leaders in congress, it became known today, have reached a decision to postpone indefinitely the question of granting independence to the Philippines.

The Porto Ricans, who also have been clamoring for independence, have been satisfied for the time being by promises of congressional action to relieve them from conditions they find irksome.

Having laid these spectacles of self-determination in our own family closet, for the time being at least, congress will be able to give undivided attention to the question of Irish independence.

Not Satisfied with Hearing.

The decision of the Republican leaders against consideration of the Filipinos' plea for independence followed the recent hearing accorded the Philippine commission at a joint session of the house and senate committees on insular affairs. It transpired that few, if any, of the Republicans or Democratic members of these committees had been sufficiently impressed by the representations of the delegates to take a stand in favor of freeing the islands at this time.

The general conclusion was that no step in this direction should be taken until more convincing proof had been offered of the ability of the Filipinos to stand alone and to continue to maintain the institutions of government and education established by the United States which have wrought such beneficial changes in the islands in twenty years. Moreover, it was deemed inadvisable to take a step of such great moment to these wards of the American republic until the equilibrium of world conditions is restored.

Plan to Visit Islands.

It is now taken for granted that the question of liberating the Philippines will not be considered seriously until the congressional committee shall have visited the islands and made an exhaustive investigation and report to congress.

The Filipino delegation was advised of this status of the matter before leaving Washington, and made no protest. In fact, it transpires that the delegation did not expect to obtain favorable action at this time.

The dispatch of the commission by the Philippine legislature was forced by the minority party in the islands, which accused the majority party of lack of aggressiveness in seeking independence.

Canadian Overseas Men Are Fast Reaching Homes

Halifax, N. F., July 20.—The present month probably will see the cessation of the great stream of transports that have been discharging their cargoes of returning heroes at Halifax. During the war nearly 1,000,000 men, including many American troops, have passed through the port.

AMERICAN MINE OWNER HARD HIT BY MEXICAN LAW

Gold Kept in Country by New Statute; Heavy
Tax on Big Shafts.

Washington, D. C., July 20.—The state department today made public portions of the new Mexican mining law of interest to Americans owning mining interests in Mexico and which went into effect July 1.

This new law brings together in a single measure all the various mining decrees issued by President Carranza. The present law is promulgated, not by congress, but under the extraordinary powers in the department of finance granted the executive by congress in 1917.

The transitory articles, the substance of which were made public by the state department, provide that all penalties due on mining properties prior to the date of the decree, June 27, 1919, are canceled, but that taxes on mining claims must be paid during July and August of this year.

May Forfeit to State.

Provisions are made for the payment in installments of the taxes overdue, but if the new law is not complied with the titles to the properties will be forfeited to the state.

The new decree also prohibits the export of gold and provides that if bars of mixed minerals which include gold are exported, coinable gold must be reimported into the country in quantity equivalent to the gold contained in the "mixed bars."

By the terms of the new decree the mint is bound to receive only gold from individuals for coinage. A former decree, promulgated April 26, 1918, provided for the coinage in unlimited amounts, and of silver under special permission from the department of finance.

Americans Heavily Hit.

As most of the gold mines in Mexico are owned by foreign companies which were able to finance the expensive operations this provision of the new law falls most heavily upon the foreign owners, most of whom are Americans.

The tax rates applied to the mining industry is graduated so that the larger the property the heavier the tax proportionately. This is done, it is said, to discourage the holding of large properties by individual operators or companies, similar to the purpose of the new agrarian law of the country.

Experts in Mexico City, according to advices received through official channels, are already questioning the advisability of this feature because of the necessity for extensive capital in handling Mexico mines, the ores of practically all of which are of low grade.

CARRANZA SAYS HE WILL AVENGE CORRELL'S DEATH

Early Protectorate Is Urged in Mexico by Wilson's Advisers.

mented briefly last night on the robbing of American sailors on the Tamest river, had further remarks to make today regarding it.

"State department officials are wrong," he said, "when they say this is the most serious incident since Vera Cruz. Why are they excited, anyhow? Such things are customary nowadays, are they not?"

Prior Incident More Serious.

"But, seriously, this incident is not nearly so grave as that which occurred in Tampico in 1916, two years after the landing at Vera Cruz to avenge the arrest of American sailors at Tampico.

"In 1914 the governor at Tampico turned the American sailors loose at once when he heard of it. He apologized. Huerta apologized. But we demanded a salute for the flag and seized Vera Cruz with some loss of life.

"But two years later, after we had driven Huerta out and recognized Carranza, thereby placing him in power, American marines, in a launch flying the American flag, were fired upon at the same spot along the Tampico water front by Carrancistas. Our men fired back and engaged in a skirmish which lasted some minutes.

"Commander Scott, commanding the Marietta, from which ship the launch had come, notified the Carrancista commander he would occupy the town, but he was ordered from Washington to withdraw his notice and not to issue ultimatums.

Defies Navy Department.

"I have defied the navy department to deny this, though they have never given out the report of Commander Scott.

"An interesting phase of this 1916 incident was that the launch, at the time it was fired on, was engaged in taking American and other foreign refugees from the shore, whence they were fleeing for their lives, virtually at the order of the American government, which would not protect them, to some ships which were to take them away."

No statements were made tonight either by navy or war department officials regarding any special preparations in the event of a decision to make demands upon Mexico in connection with the Tamest incident.

House Inquiry Starts Tomorrow.

A preliminary investigation of the Mexican situation is set for Tuesday before the rules committee of the house.

A number of witnesses will be heard, including Henry F. Fletcher, American ambassador to Mexico, and several persons who have been asked by Representative Gould to tell of conditions in Mexico.

SEVEN MEXICANS ATTACK TEXAN; 7 MEXICANS R. I. P.

Claude, Tex., July 20.—(Special.)—The following letter from Bob Carter, a rancher near the Big Bend section of the upper Rio Grande border, has been received:

"Hayes Robbins, an old J. A. ranch cowboy, who is well known in Armstrong county and at Clarendon, took a New York oil man down in the Big Bend country to look at some oil leases near the border. On the return trip seven Mexicans held them up, expecting to rob the oil man. Hayes stopped the car and the battle began, Hayes using an automatic Colt and the Mexicans using rifles.

"Hayes killed six of them with the first six shots and had punctured the seventh twice when rangers appeared and captured him. He died from his wounds in a few minutes. Hayes was slightly wounded and the car was damaged some from Mexican bullets."

ROME IN TROOPS' HANDS ON EVE OF NATIONAL STRIKE

ROME, July 20.—(By the Associated Press.)—Except for the absence of automobiles, cars, and carriages from the streets and the failure of some of the tramway lines to operate cars, Sunday was normal. The city was brightened by a great display of flags, today being the Queen Mother's birthday.

The bakeries and all shops selling necessities of life were open until noon. Caffe and wine shops were open the entire day.

The government has taken the police and military precautions to prevent any disorders that may arise tomorrow if the anticipated national strike is carried into effect. Troops have been distributed in various parts of the town.

In the chamber of deputies yesterday, Premier Nitti, in referring to the proposed strike, said his firmness would be unshakable in dealing with it.

LABOR DEMANDS SOLDIER BONUS WITH BASIC LAW

Bigelow Tells Program; Favors "Gateway Amendment."

Just what union labor will seek in the constitutional convention next November was related before the Chicago Federation yesterday by Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow.

Bigelow, chairman of Ohio's 1912 constitutional convention, warned the delegates of his belief the voters would reject "any constitution the convention may draw." He concluded a long address describing the changes labor will urge by disclosing a ruse by which the so-called "gateway amendment" may be adopted even if the constitution is rejected.

"This resolution is far more important than any of the other changes organized labor is urging," he insisted. "It means an old constitution that can be changed if labor will pledge the delegates to have it submitted on a separate ballot and make a double fight for it. Then, in the event the amendment is lost in the convention and the new pact is voted down, the measure still will be attached to the old constitution, and thus become part of the state's basic law."

Fears "Privileged Classes." Dr. Bigelow prefaced his remarks with the declaration the "privileged classes will attempt here, as ever, to thwart the people and perpetuate minority rule."

He has been engaged for some months in perfecting labor's plans under direction of officials of the state and county labor party.

"I know labor is overwhelmed with problems," he declared, "but it is most important that the changes impending in the fundamental laws of the state should be given your greatest attention."

Here's Labor Program. "So we have concluded on this program:

"First, that organized labor everywhere shall stand by the ex-servicemen and seek to have delegates pledged to compel the legislature to act for the former soldiers. In this way the legislature will be compelled to provide the plank which declares each soldier shall get from the state $50 a month for the time he spent in service. This sum we ask shall come from the state treasury and the state shall get the money by taxation levied on those who remained at home and amassed fortunes by war activities and contracts while these men fought in the trenches of Europe.

Second, we have a new idea for the poor. We want to abolish the pension system for those whose usefulness is spent.

Third, the franchise should go intact into the new constitution and it should be the privilege to urge that it does. For the referendum.

"Then there is the first section of the fourth article of the present constitution. It declares the lawmaking power of the state shall be vested in a general assembly. That is where we must amend carefully. It is to labor's advantage and to every man's advantage that the trustees thus selected and empowered should be subject to the referendum, the initiative, and the recall.

"Then labor must stand steadily for a curbing of the courts, instances of the abuses of which are now so prevalent.

"As important is all the rest is that section declaring for home rule for cities."

Mother Fails to Meet Children, as Planned

Robert and James Martin, 6 and 4 years old, respectively, left the home of their aunt in Kenosha Saturday to go to Evanston to meet their mother, Mrs. Anna Wenz, 4751 Indiana avenue.

The children sat in the North Shore electric railroad station for three hours and when their mother failed to appear they began to cry. They were seen by a policeman, who took them to the station. They were sent back to Kenosha yesterday.

FREE EDUCATION TO 7,000 A YEAR, ENGINEERS' IDEA

Camp Humphreys, Va., Huge Unit in Khaki University.

Education of 7,000 men a year to start, with eventual expansion to three times that number, is the fundamental idea back of Camp Humphreys, Va., across the Potomac from Washington, D. C. The engineers corps, under Maj. Gen. William Black, chief of engineers, is back of the idea, and already much of the work to carry it out has been done. Since the armistice Chicago has sent 700 men to the engineers and will be called upon for hundreds more in the next year.

It is part of the general scheme of the army to offer vocational and educational training to men whose lack of means might otherwise limit their education to the grade schools. Courses are offered in civil, electrical, mechanical and hydraulic engineering, railway construction and operation, forestry, mining, quarrying, crane operations, water supply, bridge designing and construction, stenography, rigging, blacksmithing, surveying, draughting, printing, lithography, masonry, plumbing, photography, English, history and civil government.

Divers Potomac River. A part of the Potomac river has been diverted, flowing through various earth formations to give the hydraulic engineer section a chance to study under actual conditions the things taught in the class rooms.

"It gives the ambitious boy, who comes of large family or of family of limited means, an opportunity to educate himself," said Capt. Mark Daniels of the school staff, in Chicago recently.

Seek Labor's Approval. "The government intends to take up the proposition with labor unions to get union recognition of a certificate of graduation from an army school. Just what will become of this plan remains to be seen."

There are now about 400 students at Camp Humphreys, with a staff of approximately fifty officers.

WITMETTE IS SO NICE, BUT NOT TO PICNIC PARTIES

Club Women War on Bathers; Clutter Up the Park.

There's always a cool breeze. The lake makes soothing sounds. The trees swirl gently. The grass is soft and comfortable. It is nice to lie down, careless of posture, and look at the waves, if you don't care to swim, and it's nice to have a basket of lunch nearby and a bottle or two of pop or ginger ale or root beer or anything you can get.

It's a great place, Wilmette, and the picknickers all know it. They go there in droves from Chicago, especially on Saturday afternoons and Sundays are they to be seen. They love Wilmette.

But—Wilmette doesn't love them. Wilmette doesn't want Chicago to regard it as a picnic paradise. And Wilmette intends to start a sort of "Wilmette for the Wilmetters" campaign.

Club Women Investigate. A group of Wilmette Women's club members headed by Mrs. Fred White set out to investigate yesterday, after talking the matter over with Edward Zipt, the village president.

All over the nice soft grass they found men and women and children dozing, sleeping, or merely lying in the sun. Some women had their hair down and their heads in the laps of their men folk. Here and there a neat pair of hose smiled back at the kindly sun. Here and there was a man with his shoes and his shirt off.

Men's hats and women's hats dotted the sward. And egg shells, crusts of bread, the fat of ham, bacon rinds, unused tomatoes, greasy papers, bones of chickens, empty bottles and crushed straws, banana skins, orange peel, gobs of sticky candy, sprinklings of popcorn, peanut shells, cardboard boxes, torn and soiled paper napkins and plates, cake crumbs, and vari-colored hair ribbons strewn the scene.

Chase Bathers from Water. "That's one reason," Mr. Zipt said, "why we cannot have these people come up here all the time. Another reason is that we cannot confine them to the regular bathing places. Two Boy Scouts were drowned the other night swimming up at the north end of the beach."

And even as he spoke a policeman was chasing men and women out of the water, telling them there was quicksand not far out, advising them to swim where swimming was authorized.

Wilmette Woman's club and other organizations of the village are going to meet as soon as possible and see what can be done about it.

TUTOR'S DIVE IN LAKE SAVES GIRL

Prof. Malcolm Shaw McLean, tutor of English at Northwestern university, was taking the air with his wife and family near the Swift hall of engineering in Evanston yesterday when he heard the scream of a girl seventy-five feet out in the lake. She screamed again and sank.

Prof. McLean didn't wait to take off his coat or shoes. He tossed his panama into the sand and dove into the lake. When he reached the bather she was sinking for the third time. He grasped him around the neck, but even with the added weight of his clothes he managed to swim back to shore with her.

The girl was resuscitated. She said she is Earla Koehler, 550 Belden avenue. She had gone to the beach alone. Prof. McLean picked up his panama, hailed a passing auto and went to his home, 805 Simpson street, for a change of raiment.

KIND HEARTS PUT SILVER IN CLOUD OF LONG TRAGEDY

Jobs and Loans Offered to Check Hard Luck of X. Y. Z.

Chicago's quiet Street of Human Kindness threw open a dozen gates yesterday to "X. Y. Z.," whose letter to Mrs. Tansu asking an even break with life sought and found the folks who have the time and heart to give a leg-up to the stranger.

The letter, published in all editions yesterday, tells the story of one and one-half years in which the man says he has seen his advertising business fail, his boy of 7 die of influenza, his girl of 1 lose her mind because of cerebral hemorrhage, his apartment and furniture sold, and at last his family ousted from a family hotel for lack of funds.

Realty Man Offers Job. T. F. Oster, real estate man, with offices in the First National Bank building, was first to add silver to the "Z." family storm clouds.

"I need an advertising man," he told THE TRIBUNE. "Please tell 'X. Y. Z.' to come and see me."

George E. Kent, who carries on an advertising business at 2409 West Lake street, is also after the services of the Chicago man whose series of hard luck turns has brought him to the end of the line. The job he has will pay an advance of this week's salary if "Z." can connect with it.

Arthur J. Mitchell, Majestic building, has a real job open to help change the "Z." luck, and will wait for the applicant this afternoon.

Many Loans Available. Phones in the city editor's room during the afternoon were kept busy with messages from Chicago folks who believe that a loan at this time would help "Z." to his feet.

"I mind the time when I was hungry and my family was facing the wall," declared the president of a west side manufacturing concern, who requested his name be withheld. "A little loan at that time made me, and I'm out for other folks who need help now. The system works in business. In my shop we have a happy family. Yesterday my boys out there got a voluntary raise of from 2 to 10 cents an hour, and they are not even interested in the meaning of 'boishevism.' We take a personal interest in each other and in our work."

Four additional offers of loans to "Z." have reached THE TRIBUNE office and have been filed with the names and addresses of the people interested. They will be turned over to "Z."

A LEVEL HEAD.

There is something common sense and American in the adjuration, "Keep your shirt on." A citizen who can understand, a common denominator of guidance with a lesson of humor.

The fire department engineers have submitted to arbitration. The stockyards employes have gone back to work. There is a lesson of good temper in this. Gov. Lowden has directed the public utilities commission to investigate the street railway situation. The public will hope for forbearance on the part of the employees; a little more patience until an awkward transportation problem can be solved; a problem which not alone affects the desire of the workers for more pay, but the desire of the public for good service.

The whole situation will be settled, but not with bad temper. The firemen were able to get together with the city administration agents and find a way out. We believe the public utilities commission will find a way out for the car men. The other strikes must be adjusted. But during the unpleasantness there is need to keep our feet on the ground.

Let's keep our shirts on during the period of industrial unrest. There is nothing shocking nor surprising in the news that strikes are with us. They knew it on the street corner six months ago that as a matter of course there could not be readjustment of world policies and domestic economies without a shudder in the framework of society.

Ask your corner philosopher what cause for the strikes and the irritation and he won't know. The Tribune has directed its inquiring young men to seek the cause. They have applied to employers and employees alike; no answer.

Most probably there are many answers. A great many persons have been working steadily through the war. Centralization of national effort imposed many restrictions. Food was restricted. Economy was applied. Pleasures were circumscribed. The great necessities of war hedged the witnesses about with many and intricate obligations. Thousands who had never saved money became the possessors of bank balances.

Suddenly the end of war. Restrictions disappeared overnight. Self-inflicted freedom burst its bonds. We are emerging upon a prospect that is not new, but unfamiliar because of its temporary exclusion. There is a great stretching of arms and a kicking over of traces.

Prices have gone up. But so has the desire of the people to spend money. For a long time we were denied the privilege of buying as we wished. That restriction has vanished; so there is an enthusiasm in watching the dollar spin. Careless buying provokes waste. Waste entails a dwindling supply; provokes demand; higher prices.

But no one of these things can be called the specific cause of unrest. There has been an upheaval; an explosion. After an explosion the pieces have got to come down. And that's what is happening now; pieces coming down; but still in the air.

It will do no good to deny there is unrest; do no good to get mad, excite high temperatures, vow reprisals. Each person must do that thing which seems most sensible and law abiding under the circumstances.

The trouble is not political, but economic. There have been industrial troubles before; will be again. The present situation is extraordinary only because of the height of the stilts upon which the whole commonwealth is stalking.

We can't keep on stilts forever; must get down to the ground. The process will not be accomplished without some spills and disordered tempers, but we'll have to accept these with equanimity.

Perhaps business will not be "as usual," but it will be more like usual if we "keep our shirts on."

REAL GOVERNMENT INSURANCE.

Repeated disturbances in administrative departments, one of which is disclosed in the war risk bureau, are apt to inspire exasperated rebuke and allegations of maladministration. Such is the case; what we are seeing is the collapse of the empty theory that a nation can "spring to arms overnight."

Apparently the faults of administration disclosed from time to time in such agencies as the insurance bureau, the shipping board, aircraft, and ordnance are the faults of the particular persons in charge of them or of the persons at the heads of the cabinet departments. In reality these faults are much more deeply rooted and we must seek causes in the national establishment which permits such a state of affairs.

It must be admitted that a huge establishment was necessary for the vigorous prosecution of such a war as we have just seen. It was required that we have an army of millions of men. The complacent boast that we could "spring to arms" seemed, upon observation of the hundreds of thousands of apparently healthy and eager men on all hands, likely of attainment.

There is trouble in the bureau. The wonder is not that there is trouble but that the bureau manages at all. The administrative agencies were necessary. We had the "springing to arms" idea full of us, and it is doubtful if even the intermediate difficulties of the government will disclose some means of the belief that we did spring to arms and fight to win.

The rest of the trouble is not in the officers at the heads of the bureau. Were they supermen and capable of achieving the impossible, the result would be even worse, for then the springs to arms would be even more abundantly sustained in their theories.

The trouble lies in the fact that the government was compelled to plunge half ready into such a gigantic undertaking. The troubles of the bureau are the most forceful, if also the most disastrous and expensive, arguments for national training of men and the public mind. The swamped bureau prove that we cannot undertake vast movements without preparation.

So simple a thing as an election requires the planning of numberless details in advance; and we have assumed that an army of 5,000,000 can be sent into the field without the least forethought. Hundreds of thousands of families will, in all probability, be inconvenienced, if not distressed, by the mishaps of the war risk bureau. This should bring it home everywhere that the nation unprepared cannot expect other than to suffer the consequences of failing to take the stitch in time. One man may spring to arms overnight; not a billion dollar insurance company.

We will hear of other administrative troubles, railroads, ships, planes, and what not; all have grown out of the elemental trouble of failing to provide in advance.

THE SENATE AND THE COVENANT.

We do not believe that President Wilson will have his way with the United States senate in his insistence that the covenant of the league of nations be accepted as it stands. We do not think that the senate wisely can allow him to have his way.

The senate is not only theoretically the final authority in the treaty making of the United States. Its history proves that it has been an active agent in the making of treaties. It does assert itself and it has saved the nation from blunders to which administrations would have committed it.

It rejected the Panama treaty which John Hay had negotiated with Great Britain. It got a better treaty and a safer one. It accepted the Hague convention with reservations. The United States senate is an actual treaty making power and we think it is actuated by sounder American traditions in this case than the administration is.

In this case it is a real conservative body, conserving the genuine interests of the American people for many generations.

"WHEN ALL WARS END."

No deadlier weapon was ever devised than the Roman sword. This information may be derived advantageously by those who have been deriving comfort recently out of the smug reflection that new engines of destruction and new gases are so devastating as to prohibit future conflict.

Each war has produced new and violent machinery to destroy the enemy. Knights errant in their potmetal were considered invincible until the Swiss upset them and proved the age old theory that infantry is most dangerous. Artillery was once considered so destructive as to make all warfare seem impossible.

Before the great war we heard much of mysterious acids which would blot out whole cities, ammunition capable of destroying armies. Infantry remained the backbone of the military forces. The acids, gases, high explosives, planes, electricity all played their parts, but the controlling factor of warfare is unchanged.

An automobile is impelled by a new energy, has more comfortable seats, many conveniences; runs on four wheels like the same; the car hasn't changed so greatly after all.

We never depended upon the destructiveness of the weapons employed, but upon the temper of human beings. The wheels of human desire, human jealousy, human loyalty, and human ambition are the same though we have built round them a modern carriage of diplomacy and commerce.

A great shell might destroy a whole army if that army were conveniently assembled for that purpose. But when one belligerent devises a gun big enough to kill 1,000 men the other belligerent will see that 1,000 men are never to be found together. Bombs may destroy cities, but the wise inhabitants of those cities will not be there when it happens; or they will devise a new bombproof.

War is not of powder, but of human thought and will.

FIGHTING FOR AMERICANISM.

The American Legion, the new organization of veterans of the great war, has begun its public service most auspiciously with a plan for a patriotic campaign against the "Reds."

There are a number of projects with this commendable and timely object, but none which will have the effect of that of the legion. Where a man who has worn the khaki or blue in the service of the republic speaks on Americanism and on patriotism it is going to count. The American people have reason to hold their soldiers and sailors in esteem. We are proud of their deeds and their character, and proud with good reason. Whether they had the privilege of getting to the firing line or were only ready and waiting, we know they were true blue Americans, men of all races and creeds, but loyal as one man to the flag and what it stands for.

We hope the legion's speaking campaign will spread over all the country and especially attack those strongholds of foreign ideas which have held out against Americanism. The press should back the legion with its full strength and spread its influence. The forces of disintegration are stronger than usual in all civilization. They are comparatively weaker in our country than in the countries stricken by war, but they are with us, and the American Legion is the best of all agencies to defeat them.

Editorial of the Day

TOBACCO NOW OFFICIALLY MEMORIAL.

[Cincinnati Enquirer.]

As an example of the tendency of the times there is quoted the recent decision of a great religious sect to enter upon a campaign for righteousness through a standing committee which wears the title of "temperance and moral welfare." It has set out to begin "a dignified but effective" campaign of methods against certain evils of the body politic.

In the list of things to be opposed are the use of narcotic drugs, the evil of hasty and improper divorces, gambling in all forms, exhibitions of prize fighting and boxing and finally—tobacco! It seems settled that the use of this herb has been finally placed in the catalogue of crimes against morality—sin, if you please—and the country may as well accept the inevitable result.

There will be left no middle ground for the prescribed smoker, chewer or snuffer; no place available that it is being taken for medicinal purposes, which was the now rejected excuse of the thrice accursed stogie of alcoholic beverages. These unhappy people are now alike with the morphine fiend, the crafty, dishonest gambler, the disgraceful seeker of unwholesome divorce and the bloodthirsty brutes of the boxing platform. Indulgence in the Indian weed is, also, the mark of the beast upon the sinful brute.

AFTER THE WAR IS OVER

BY ARTHUR E. MANN.

[Chicago Tribune Special Correspondent.]

ROME, June 20.—Southern Italy and Sicily want American capital—more than can be gotten from emigrants' savings—for the development of agriculture. That money is needed not only to help the swarthy little Sicilians, Calabrese and other farmers of that hot country buy American plows and farm machinery, but to build roads, railroads, and harbors, so that the crops may be moved after they are harvested.

Italians who urge that American money be invested here admit that it will not pay as well as that returns will begin to come in as quickly as it would if put into industrial concerns. Farming profits in Italy are slow and, in early years, not very large. Often the padrone of a little place in the south finds that he is not getting much more income than an ex-barber from the U. S. A. would. Also many farmers are only waiting for money to enable them to substitute more profitable fruit for grain growing. Such a change-over would mean that Mr. American Banker would have to wait even longer for the return for his money.

Usually enough, when talking about hard cash, Italians asking for this form of American investment speak of the wonderful chance to add Italy, even though at reduced profits to us. The least of President Wilson's aid is an Italian sunk deeper into Italian minds than one would think.

It is said that in the industrial north there will be less chance for foreign investment. While agriculture suffered during the war through shortage of labor, manufacturing in many branches prospered through war orders and hundreds of firms were expanded and recapitalized until now, with peace again raging, they are having a hard time to fill their wartime clothes. It is also true that Italian business, having pretty well shaken itself loose from the domination of German capital, is extremely chary of accepting new aid from any other foreign money. But what Italian manufacturers have been fighting for is a protective tariff against manufactured articles which they are just beginning to make or hope to make as soon as peace is declared and international trade becomes more normal.

The tariff situation here is very similar to what it was in the United States twenty years ago. Farmers of the south who grow grain and grapes for spaghetti and wine wanted to buy cheap foreign manufactures, while those who make type-writers, automobiles, etc., are more interested in keeping out foreign competition so they can trade their goods in Italy for the life giving spaghetti and wine at a profit to themselves.

But five Italian economic states, who are not financially committed to either side, say that Italy will never become a great manufacturing country, that she can only produce advantageously fine quality, high priced and artistic goods in enormous quantities of inexpensive standardized products. We should build finely fitted passenger ships, they say, and not try to turn out hundreds of standard merchantmen. We should build automobiles for the rich, sturdy and abroad, and not try to make cheap cars by the thousands. They contend that the Italian ability and temperament, together with the lack of large resources in raw materials, leads to a qualitative rather than to quantitative production.

The epidemic here which we believe to be influenza and which has been spreading since March and April. In spite of that the 1919 March rate was higher than that of 1918, and the April rate was almost as high. We must keep on fighting influenza and we must keep on fighting the after effects of the disease on the bodies of the survivors.

HEROIC DUNKIRK

BY FAITH HUNTER DODGE.

[Chicago Tribune Special News Service.]

[Special Correspondent.]

PARIS, July 6.—Two lone doughboys were wandering down a street of Dunkirk, where they had come to make notes on the architecture of the Place de l'Hotel de Ville and the art treasures of the seaside town. They were commenting on the spirit of the people of Dunkirk and the hospitality with which they had been received.

"The folks here," said one of them, "are the limit. They'll hitch up a telephone in a ruin worse than a second class dugout, and while it serves as a substitute for the big house blown to pieces by a German bomber, they'll get more fun out of it than a bunch of kids at play. They are proud as kings, generous to a sin, and as happy as if, instead of losing everything they ever possessed in the world, their great aunt had just left a big legacy to them."

Dunkirk, the church (kerque) city beside the sea, behind the shelter of the dunes (sandunes), is made up of a hardy, energetic population, descended from French, English and Spanish conquerors and Gallic fisherfolk, brought up in the stern school of centuries of war against human enemies and against the sea. They seem, as the doughboys said, to have forgot their troubles, and when visitors come, they are welcomed with the sound of a military band, bugles and the sweet toned bell in the ancient tower, which still rings merrily.

So the allied journalists were welcomed, on their way to Belgium, and were received in the Hotel Victoria. They arrived at the hotel, a descendant of a line of bourgeois starting in at the end of the 17th century, and continuing through the middle ages to the present time, as powerful heads of a city government as ever have existed. The jumble of gastronomic festivities, heart-breaking visits to endow the city with a new harbor, and the most astounding demonstrations of gratitude and friendliness which the newspaper correspondents enjoyed in Belgium, really began in the French town of Dunkirk, where they were cheered and banqueted.

Dunkirk, we are told, hasn't really changed. During the war its families lived in their cellars; moved from one house to another as walls crashed down over them; they got their work done as before the war, except that they intensified it. They were shipyarders, after three years and a half of varied and uninterrupted bombardments, turned out during the war a ship of 19,000 tons, 460 feet long, the largest cargo of the French merchant marine. Dunkirk went about its daily tasks cheerfully, repeating the phrase of its Gallic ancestors: "Bahi! The sky isn't going to fall."

There are still on certain walls and display windows of the city, remnants of ironical signs put up on closed houses and stores, for Dunkirk did not approve of deserting what it refused to consider sinking ship. One of these signs reads: "Closed for a week." Another "Closed till tonight," but no dates are given, recalling the famous barber shop sign "Free shaves tomorrow," which Dunkirk still has.

Dunkirk's morale held out exactly like the symbolic statue of the city's intrepid hero, Jean Bart (a bronze by David d'Angers in the largest public square of the city), which seemed intact in the midst of bombs and falling shells, no projectile of any kind even scratched it.

Dunkirk, which received the army citation reading: "Heroic city, worthy example to the entire nation," on Oct. 17, 1917, has not changed.

GOOD NEWS, IF—

COMMISSIONER GRAM of the Buffalo health department does not think there will be any great increase in consumption, heart disease or Bright's disease, or other organic disease, as a result of the influenza epidemic. This is not an offhand opinion, but is the result of a follow-up investigation made in Buffalo.

In February the returned soldiers were employed to make a canvass of the city. They called at homes and asked who in that home had escaped influenza and who had had the disease. Those who had had the disease were asked whether recovery had been complete; if not, what had been the nature of the aftermath. They found that 8,178 had died from the disease; 24,484 had recovered, and 748 had not recovered. According to this investigation only about 1 per cent of the Buffalo population had had the disease and only about 9 per cent of those having the disease had died of it.

It was a dramatic epidemic every sort of ill is attributed to the influenza. Cases of consumption that would have developed anyhow are charged against influenza. Hearts that were due to give out are said to have gone down under the strain of influenza. It is not, however, as a hot day every stroke of paralysis is said to be a result of the heat.

Only 748 out of the 23,000 examined claimed that grip had left after effects. How unjustified some of this is is shown by analysis. Of the sum total seventy-four had unclassified pains, 298 had rheumatism, weakness and such complaints, and twenty-six had eye troubles.

The study of the death rates from consumption made in several cities showed that the epidemic of 1919 did not increase the prevalence of that disease. I doubt if 33,000 people could have malaria, fever and ague, or any other disease without having more than 748 claim that their general health had been permanently injured or that their organic diseases were the result of the epidemic.

The conclusion is that influenza does not have such far reaching effects; that a man is even to be soon gets over the effects of it as well, and that we have nothing to fear in the way of after-effects of influenza. When, a few years from now, the influenza, pneumonia and bronchitis have been forgotten, and we are left with all the low general disease rates, all of which is fine news. In our station I hope we will not forget popping away at influenza, pneumonia and bronchitis, and we will come back later in the year.

The death rate of Chicago has been higher this year in every month except April than it was last year. In 1918 we had a miniature epidemic of pneumonia and bronchitis, and it is not until March and April. In spite of that the 1919 March rate was higher than that of 1918, and the April rate was almost as high. We must keep on fighting influenza and we must keep on fighting the after effects of the disease on the bodies of the survivors.

FEARS BRIGHT'S DISEASE. J. W. writes: "My left instep has been troubling me for some time by swelling or expanding and becomes so painful by the afternoon that I have to rub my shoe. Now my right instep is troubling me also. I have been told that it is a sign of Bright's disease. Is that not what can I do for it? Will it die off any good? If so, please tell me how to get it off. I am a man 45 years old and in very good health."

Swelling of the ankles is one sign of Bright's disease. You should have your urine examined to determine whether that is the cause of the symptoms in you.

SHUTTING OUT HAY FEVER. W. P. B. writes that wearing cotton wool plugs in the nostrils during the hay fever season prevents some people from developing the disease. There are devices on the market for holding these nose plug filters in position.

THE FRIEND OF THE SOLDIER

The Friend of the Soldier will cooperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1807 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors. Inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed. No attention will be paid to anonymous letters.

DEPENDENCY NOT CONSIDERED.

Detroit, Mich., July 16.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—When my son entered the army there was no war risk insurance, but that fall the war risk insurance was introduced and he took out $10,000 worth of insurance. He was killed last September and I have not received any insurance yet, but have had several letters from the bureau. I have been told many that are not true. I am a widower, I will not receive benefits, as my husband is able to support me. Now, my son stated that the money for the insurance was taken out of his pay each month, and I feel that there is some money to the insurance. He named me as beneficiary.

It is not necessary for the beneficiary to have been a dependent of the insured for the money to be paid to the beneficiary. Insurance is payable to the beneficiary regardless of any dependency, and the insurance will be paid to the beneficiary if he has been a dependent of the insured. Whoever informed you that it was not possible for you to receive the insurance benefits must have confused it with the actual dependency is proven.

HOUSEWIVES TO CENTER FIGHT ON RETAIL DEALERSWill Hold Massmeeting in "Biggest Obtainable Place" Soon.

A massmeeting of Chicago housewives, in the "biggest obtainable place," is to be held under the auspices of the Anti-Profit League of America just as soon as Mrs. L. L. Funk, president of the league, can arrange it. At the massmeeting the question of just how to beat the high cost of living will be taken up.

Butchers, grocers, fruit dealers, and delicatessen men will be given an opportunity, at the meeting, to explain their side of the case if they care to, Mrs. Funk said.

A preliminary meeting is to be held tonight at the Morrison hotel to hear a report of a committee named last week to prepare a questionnaire for grocers and butchers. Mrs. W. C. H. Kough, former member of the board of education, is chairman of the questionnaire committee.

Want Actual Costs.

"We want first to get at the actual facts on what various products cost the grocer and butcher," said Mrs. Kough last night. "Then we want to know what his overhead expense is, whether his business is a cash or credit business, whether his goods are delivered or carried by the purchaser, and whether the big percentage of business is by telephone order or by personal selection of the purchaser."

"If the dealer refuses to give his overhead expense or to answer any of the other questions we put to him that is to be stated on the questionnaire blank before it is returned to the league, so that we can get some idea of whether or not the retailers are operating fairly and squarely with the public or whether they are operating their business in a manner that won't stand the light of investigation."

"Quarrel Is with Retailer."

"We have not taken our questions to the government yet. Our members, the housewives, deal with the retailer, and so it is with the retailer that we have our quarrel."

Mrs. Funk wants to make it clear, however, that housewives, whether affiliated with any club organization or not, are welcome to participate in the movement.

Mayer Thompson has stated that he will appoint his committee to investigate food prices this morning.

Why, What Ails
CHINA? JAPS SAY;
WE'RE SATISFIED

New York, July 20.—Members of the Japanese and Chinese delegations to the peace conference, reached here today on the Aquitania and spokesmen for both sides issued statements regarding the Shantung award.

One Tui-Chi, a Chinese technical delegate, said the decision involves a glaring injustice to China.

"It was made in violation of every principle underlying the league of nations covenant and creates a far east Alsace-Lorraine," he declared.

"It is true that Japan has promised to return Shantung, but she will return it a shadow and keep the body."

Yami Kawa, accompanied by K. Aashi, leader of the Japanese house of commons, said Japan was entirely satisfied with the peace terms, and that her delegation cannot understand why China does not take a similar attitude.

"Japan made sacrifices when she took Shantung from the Germans," he said, "while China was impotent and accomplished nothing. The settlement has been fair, and the province will eventually be returned to China."

BERLIN, July 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Silesia Question, which has been the subject of much discussion, has finally agreed that Upper Silesia shall become a free state.

The inhabitants of Upper Silesia, it is added, are still demanding that the district remain German. A million and a half of the inhabitants have joined in the protest against a change.

U. S. CHEMISTS TO TAKE OLD EGYPT'S GLORY AT SHOW

Modern chemistry is preparing to demonstrate in Chicago that Yankee genius has eclipsed another record of the ancient Egyptians.

The upheaval of another cherished achievement of the Pharaohs is to come during the week of Sept. 22, when the fifth national exposition of chemical industries will open in the Coliseum, according to announcement yesterday by the exposition committee.

At that time ultra-modern scientists will produce exhibits of bronze of such hardness and strength that instruments made of it are used to cut chilled steel. The performance, chemical experts declare, exceeds that of the fabulous bronze of old Egypt, which has been recorded as of sufficient hardness to make into chisels.

Chiefs of the exposition promise a complete review of wartime developments in metal and organic chemistry, which until now have remained locked away in the secret laboratories of the country. Instruments, devices, and apparatus perfected during the period of war for precise measurements of temperature, weights, and velocities; new safety appliances for mines and other industries, results of army and navy research, and hundreds of other inventions will be included in the program.

"The chemical industries of the United States are advancing in leaps and bounds," declares the exposition announcement, "and the end is not yet in sight."

PERSHING'S SON IS 'DADDY'S' SON;
SON OF A 'GUN'!

Lad Lives Day of Thrills as the Guest of Royalty.

LONDON, July 20.—(United News.)—Little Warren Pershing has lived. For life can hold few greater thrills than those which came to the soldierly, 10 year old son of "Black Jack" Pershing during Saturday's great victory pageant, in which millions gave themselves over to a delirium of joy in commemoration of victory.

What Happened to Boy.

These things happened to Warren Pershing:

The king slapped him on the back in chummy fashion, as one soldier to another.

The queen patted him on the head and called a photographer to snap them together as they stood in the royal box in the reviewing stand.

The great Marshal Foch shook his hand as a fellow soldier, and then, stooping, kissed him on each cheek, the greeting to a comrade.

Queen Alexandra, plain, grand, motherly old lady, clasped the motherless American boy in her arms and kissed him.

Ex-King Manuel of Portugal and the ex-queen shook his hand, and so did the Prince of Wales, England's future king.

Dad Hugs, Kisses Him.

And even that list does not give the supreme thrill that Warren Pershing enjoyed in a day of super-thrills.

The greatest of all came when Gen. Pershing, having finished his part in the parade, dismounted and walked to the royal box to take his stand at the king's side to watch the other marshals.

From his obscure place in the royal box a little boy, in a miniature uniform of an American officer, leaped forward, dignity forgotten, and, with an impulsive cry of "O, dad," threw himself into the arms of his big soldier father. Pershing swept him up with a fatherly hug, kissed him, and then presented the youngster "all around."

He's a Military Lad.

Warren Pershing is his father's son, dignified as a field marshal, after the little emotional interlude.

At each introduction he saluted gravely and even in that trying moment when Marshal Foch knelt down to kiss him right in front of all these thousands of people his bearing was impeccably military.

BOUNDSMEN DEFUSE CLASH.

SHORTAGE OF ICE
THREATENS BAN ON ALL ICE CREAM

Makers Fear Shutdown for 10 Days in August.

"Buy your ice cream sundae now, before the town goes icecreamless." Placards with the foregoing advice may stare you in the face at every drug store and soft drink parlor in the city before Aug. 10.

There is a scarcity of ice, say ice cream manufacturers, and a probability that Chicago will make none of the rigid delicacy for a period of ten days.

John T. Cunningham, president of the Cunningham Ice Cream company, says the situation is grave.

"I don't wish to alarm the ice cream loving public," said Mr. Cunningham, "but there is a grave probability that the ice cream manufacturers of Chicago will have to close down for ten days in August. Unless we get an increased supply of ice from some source the scarcity will compel manufacturers to close temporarily."

Manufacturers Take Up Problem.

"The big manufacturers have held meetings and discussed the situation. The outlook is not encouraging. Last summer the ice cream makers at Washington, D. C., Nashville, and other cities were compelled to close down to conserve the supply of ice."

"During the extreme heated spell Chicago consumes about 75,000 gallons of ice cream daily. It takes from sixty to seventy-five pounds of ice to freeze a gallon of cream."

"The cause of the scarcity of ice is the small harvest last winter. Artificial ice makers supply only about 25 percent of the ice used in Chicago."

No Reserve Stock.

On the last day that Chicago was "wet" thousands of persons laid in a supply of whiskies and wines to tide them over for a while. But ice cream lovers can't do this. "Carnation" Dan O'Leary, who never touched a drop of liquor in his life, predicts riotous scenes at ice cream emporiums the last night before the close down.

"The night of June 30," he said, "won't be a comparison with the night they shut off the ice cream. Imagine thousands of boys and girls—yes, and grown folks—gorging themselves on ice cream sodas and sundaes! Yes, and banana splits. I can see them right now, sitting on high stools at drug stores bawling and fighting for 'just one more little sundae.'"

Believe Two Persons Had Hand in Cleveland Murder

Cleveland, O., July 20.—After a day of theorizing, without any tangible clue to aid, half a dozen experienced investigators agreed tonight that two persons familiar with the house participated in the murder of Daniel Kaher, wealthy Cleveland publisher. No arrests have been made.

The theory is that while one person struck the victim's throat another stabbed him. Imprints of naked fingers were still quite distinct on the throat today when a second autopsy was made.

Cut Prices

Cut prices are alluring only on goods of known value. Without the previous establishment of standards, cut prices would not be seductive.

An excessive cut price on advertised goods of known value is a bait.

A very wise and cynical fish would swallow the bait but avoid the hook—because, of course, there is a hook.

When a dealer sells for less than cost it is not for love that he does it.

If gold were without value there would be no thieves.

If advertising had not established for an article a wide-spread public recognition of standard value, there would be no bait in a "ruinous cut price."

The Empty Cupboard

THE ENERGY of the nation now has full play. Business is leaping with bounds; there is so much to be done for those at home and those abroad.

War stripped us down to necessities; swept away our reserve supplies; taxed factory, mine and farm.

Now we must supply not only our customary wants, but we must again store up our normal reserves, while helping rebuild devastated Europe.

There must be no paralysis of production; confidence between capital and labor must prevail; constructive co-operation must rule; the world's supplies must be enormously multiplied.

The new American spirit, the spirit of Service, must govern. With this spirit prevalent we take up our huge task with enthusiasm.

Visitors Should See Our Tiffany Glass Exhibit

The Tiffany Exhibit is one of the show places of the Store. It seems to grow more important and more beautiful year after year.

TIFFANY Glass is like nothing else in the world, we believe. It has a charm all its own—a charm that is the secret which has made the Tiffany glass and metals a sort of tradition in this country.

There are some new pieces in the space we devote to Tiffany. They are in new colors—exquisite shades, all of them, and graceful shapes.

There are Rose Jars, Tall Vases, Compotes, Smaller Vases, Bud Vases—a well-chosen assortment that is very good to look upon.

Second Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Let the Children Run Around as They Will—
In Field "Nature" Briar-Proof Shoes

THEY are made of leather with the rough side out—so that tough weeds and stones and the bark of trees leave no impression on them.

The smooth side of the leather is inside, so no lining is necessary, and the Shoes are therefore lighter in weight and much cooler.

The uppers are made with only two seams, and this prevents ripping to a great extent.

In appearance the Shoes present a dark mustard color, rough surfaced, but very attractive. Their chief beauty, of course, is in their durability. Sizes 6 to 11, $4.75.

Smoked horsehide Play Shoes, smooth finish (a different style entirely from the Briar-proof Shoes), sizes 11 to 2, $6.

THIRD BANK MAY ADD MILLIONS TO LOOP MERGER

Corn Exchange Considers Joining Illinois Trust and Merchants.

Negotiations are actively being conducted toward the inclusion of the Corn Exchange National bank, with about $12,000,000 capital and surplus and $111,000,000 deposits, in the Illinois Trust and Merchants Loan merger, which latter is to be ratified by stockholders on July 25. It is understood that the officials of the three banks concerned are favorable to the plan. It is a matter of working out a number of details. If this can be done, then almost by one stroke there will have been created a banking institution with more than $215,000,000 deposits and a total of $20,000,000 capital and $30,000,000 surplus.

It is proposed that the Corn Exchange National shall enter the combination, retaining its name, but with its capital stock all owned by the new parent institution formed by the union of the Merchants Loan and Illinois Trust banks. The shares of the Corn Exchange will be trusted in the same manner, as are the shares of the First Trust and Savings bank, owned by the stockholders of the First National, and the shares of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings bank, owned by the stockholders of the Continental and Commercial National bank.

Placing of Officials.

Under the enlarged plan, Ernest Hamill, president of the Corn Exchange National, is expected to become chairman of that board of directors, while E. D. Hulbert will be president, and also the president of the parent bank, a name for which has not been chosen. John J. Mitchell will be chairman of this board, as previously announced.

In linking up a national bank with a state bank, the usual procedure will have been reversed. But there has just been organized in New Orleans a combination similar to the one proposed here, that is, one in which a national bank has its stock transferred for the benefit of the stockholders of a state institution.

The capital stock of the Corn Exchange National is $5,000,000. It is planned to increase this to $5,000,000, the same as the other two banks, and to raise the surplus from $7,000,000 to $10,000,000. Then each of the three banks in combination will have equal capital and equal surplus. It is understood that the Corn Exchange bank will offer its $2,000,000 new stock to shareholders at $150 a share making the amount paid in $3,000,000. The extra $1,000,000 thus raised above the $2,000,000 capital would, with the present undivided profits now $1,892,318, bring the surplus up to $10,000,000.

Three Main Groups.

The consummation of the merger as now planned will give Chicago three large banking groups, headed by the Continental and Commercial National, with total deposits of $270,000,000 and resources of $475,000,000, and next in order, the new concern with $215,000,000 deposits and $425,000,000 total resources. The First National group has $282,000,000 deposits and $375,000,000 total resources. The subjoined table shows the capital, surplus, undivided profits, deposits, and total resources of the three banking groups under review, the figures being as of June 30, 1913, the date of the last published statements of the banks. Since that date, however, the deposits of all the leading institutions have run up fast, and the aggregate should be about $50,000,000 more than shown in the table.

AND NOW EVEN A QUIET SMOKE ON WALK IS BARRED

Ex-Alderman Grabbed by Cop as He Puffs at Sunday Weed.

Let us start this story with a man sitting in a chair on the sidewalk outside the Forum billiard parlors at Forty-third street and Calumet avenue. The man is Nicholas Cramer, of 124 East Forty-fourth street, and once upon a time he was alderman of the First ward.

In Zion City he would be arrested on sight, for he is smoking; and it is Sunday morning, too.

Inside for Nicholas.

A policeman approaches, Oscar Anderson by name. He looks at Cramer, and he looks at the chair, and he looks at the sidewalk. And he tells Cramer he can't smoke out there any more; he'll have to go inside.

Cramer is surprised. He asks if this is Russia or America or what? Anderson replies it isn't the back woods, either, and he takes Cramer to the Wabash avenue police station and books him.

The Sergeant Explains.

The desk sergeant at the station is asked about it. What was the man's offense, the inquirer wants to know; and is it against the peace and dignity of the city to smoke outside a billiard parlor on Sunday morning?

"He was booked under that section of the law which punishes those who refuse to move on when told to do so by a duly authorized officer of the law," remarks the desk sergeant. "And he was spitting all over the sidewalk and making a nuisance of himself. That's all."

Doughboy Reporters to Be Discharged Today

Rockford, Ill., July 20.—Fourteen doughboy reporters of the American Expeditionary Forces, who were on the editorial staff of the Stars and Stripes, will be discharged from the service at Camp Grant tomorrow or Tuesday. Their homes are in Chicago and Wisconsin cities. Corporal Burchill of Chicago, editor of the soldiers' service department of that publication, who answered thousands of questions asked by the soldiers, is among the fourteen.

MUSICAL MUSE AMUSES 'EM AT MUNICIPAL PIER

Populace Warbles 'Mickey,' 'Old Black Joe,' and Other Classics.

Yester evening was a "musical" time down at the municipal pier. The Gall-Correls and John McCormacks of the proletariat foregathered in the auditorium and bombarded the atmosphere with sharp and flutes and noises that defy classification.

'Twas the weekly "sing" of the citizens. Last night there were 3,500 of 'em, warbling in all the keys in the register—and in some not in it—at one and the same time. Down in the front row sat a well dressed man with his wife. His hair was slightly gray, and the tortoise shell glasses adorning his nose gave him a distinguished appearance. A few rows away was an alien gentleman, sans collar or shave. Beside him sat a hefty lady who scolded at her progeny in Polish.

Singing "Old Black Joe."

"Now folks," exhorted Frederick W. Carberry from the wooden platform, "let's forget our dignity and have a good time. We'll have a try at 'Old Black Joe'."

The pianist tickled the keyboard for a prelude, the leader Billy Sundayed a bit with his arms, and the attack on poor Joe began. Kids who couldn't read the words made their mouths move anyway. Growlups who could read sang 'em out of tune. And the tenor—

"I-I-I'm e-o-mmm-m-ing-g-g," he warbled bravely, and all the children in the vicinity crowded around to stare with wonder. Every fresh quaver it seemed as if his throat would split and spill his Adam's apple on the pavement.

Isadore Felt Guilty.

Isadore Levinsky of Maxwell street, sitting close by, evidently took courage at the vociferousness of the adjacent Caruso. He opened his mouth to the extent of a few cautiously lifted syllables, and then glanced guiltily about him.

"Gee, Jimmy, the next song's 'Till We Meet Again,'" exclaimed a romantic maid, shifting her gaze in rapturous anticipation. She was holding hands with a youth who wore a snappy green cravat.

The song in question was rendered by the populace with the utmost of feeling. Sharps mingled with flats in a perfect orgy of sentiment, while the singers rolled their eyes soulfully skyward.

Then they switched to "Mickey."

Presenting Young Jenny Lind.

"Who wants to sing the chorus as a solo?" called Mr. Carberry. Miss Ruth Gordon of 1511 South Central Park avenue, 14 years old, with black curls and a gingham dress, got upon her chair and sang:

And so it went, clear down to the "Star Spangled Banner."

"They enjoy themselves immensely," said Mr. Carberry, gazing upon the departing throng. "The growlups like the old songs best. It's the only chance they get to sing, because they're afraid of being laughed at if they try it at home. But when they get out here they can't help themselves."

These "sings" will be given every Sunday throughout July and August. It's a rare chance, fellow cits, to exercise your larynx.

THIRSTY 'CAMEL' TRAPPED AS TWO FAIR HEBES POUR

'Twas woefully dry out on the South Side, where John Evans, 3223 South State street, lives. Sunday without the mornin's mornin' was distasteful to John but the old private stock had disappeared as a result of a convivial gathering Saturday night.

One of the friends who helped John finish the private stock told him it was easy to get more over on the West Side. So early Sunday morning John skipped church and went out to see.

At Lake and Paulina streets Allen Dufort and Hattie Smith, of 1827 and 1825 West Lake street, "highballed" him.

"Thirsty?" queried Allen and Hattie. "Oh, gosh," said John.

Allen and Hattie led the way through an alleyway, down to a basement, up another flight of steps, through a second basement, and into Hattie's home. But hist!

Crawford and Fournier, sterling sleuths, saw the "highball" and stuck to the devious trail. They watched. They saw Hattie pour from a bottle, saw Evans drink, saw Allen take his two bit piece.

They're all in the Warren avenue station now, along with two bottles of confiscated evidence, prepared to say "Good morning, Judge," at 9 o'clock.

Sugar Crop Is Big; This Is Official; Tell Your Dealer

Washington, D. C., July 20.—While retail dealers throughout the country are advising consumers they have difficulty in obtaining normal stocks of sugar, the government has forecast a domestic crop far above the average for the last six years. The department of agriculture in an estimate based on July 1 conditions today predicted a crop of 2,216,000,000 pounds. This would be 147,000,000 pounds more than the average of the preceding six years, during which the total of the two crops of beet and cane sugar has slightly exceeded 2,000,000,000 pounds, except in 1914-15.

HERE is Irene Castle, celebrated beauty and danseuse, in a passionate Robert W. Chambers love-play.

"The Firing Line" is the line where hearts meet, and the incandescence of love melts all opposition.

The picture has an atmosphere of silks and society, of ball-rooms, yachts, Palm Beach and mountain homes.

It is the story of a young society girl who marries secretly. Then she falls in love with her true affinity. A divorce will bring dishonor on her adopted parents. What is she to do?

It remains for the hand of fate to provide a solution which is the climax of the picture, and a climax that will thrill you to the core. See it!

ROB 12 VICTIMS IN WILD RUN WITH STOLEN MACHINE

Night Marked by Variety and Number of Holdups.

W. A. Stambach, 6865 Yale avenue, was paying too much attention to his girls on the Jackson park course Saturday evening to notice the movements of two men who hopped into his highly polished roadster and drove it away. This marked the beginning of one of the most complete thieving escapades recorded by the police in years.

Before they had completed their jaunt around the city the thieves had relieved twelve unsuspecting citizens of several hundred dollars in currency and jewelry. The police are still on their trail.

Their first attempt interrupted the walking exercise of Norman Mitchell, 1819 East Seventy-fourth street. Being a well built engineer, Norman gave battle, but after taking three shots in the leg he yielded.

Robberies Come Thick and Fast. Then followed in order, Sidney Friend, 4156 Prairie avenue; Arthur Anderson, 4919 Prairie avenue; L. K. Fisher, 4400 Berkeley avenue; Joseph Eddie, 12 East Forty-fourth street, and L. Lowenthal, 4553 Ellis avenue. A man in the company of Lowenthal also yielded his purse. The entire cleanup represented over $200.

A visit to the northwest side was next on the program. At Bloomington road and Central Park avenue, Thorn Nelson, 2038 North Spaulding avenue, was halted and parted with $11. They gave him a black eye for remembrance.

M. Burnett was on his way to his domicile at 2038 North Kedzie avenue when the pair halted him at Dickens street and Kedzie avenue. He lost $50. H. D. Weyth, 1303 Carmen avenue, was confronted by the bandits at Carmen avenue and Clark street. He touched their hearts with a sob tale, so they touched him only for his pants hat.

Thieves Are Youthful. Four other men reported holdups to Northwest side stations and described the thieves as extremely youthful. The same car was used in each case, it is reported. It was found yesterday.

John Harris, 3245 Grandview street, featured a $1,000 stud and a $1,100 "roll" too prominently around the restaurant of Harry Block, 1256 South Halsted street, and the place of Barney Ehrlich, Roosevelt road and Roman avenue. When he reached the vestibule of his home at 438 yesterday morning he faced two guns. He yielded his belongings.

Policeman Harry Miller of Maxwell street station, who is a brother-in-law of Block, arrested two suspects in the neighborhood. Harris identified them as the men who are alleged to have robbed him. They gave the names of Ben Jacobson and Harry Miller.

Three chauffeurs were held up for more than $100 by two men in the course of the evening.

LIFE SAVER

Girl Rescues Young Man from Death in Lake.

Miss Louise Nepper rescued a young man from death in Lake.

Miss Louise Nepper can swim, float, dive, and perform all the other tricks of the beach mermaid. So she gave no thought to a challenge to race to the pier which she called out to her companion at Calvary beach Saturday night—until standing on the ladder leading from the water she heard a gurgling cry. She found Robert Dillworth, 18, struggling. A few quick strokes and she was at his side, a few more and she was able to regain the ladder and, holding Dillworth's head up, called for help. John Kusen, 1837 Birchwood avenue, pulled Dillworth, almost unconscious, out of the water.

"Bob just can't thank me enough, it seems," said Miss Nepper in her home, 7438 Murphy avenue, last night. "It was easy though—the pier was so near."

"I didn't know he couldn't swim and he thought he could walk to the pier, but there's a big hole right near the ladder and he fell in." Dillworth lives at 1921 Brethwood avenue.

FLOWER VENDER IS SLAIN FOR GEM SAVINGS BOUGHT

For ten years "Charlie" Duncan, 3618 South State street, colored, has peddled flowers through the Hyde Park district. He saved his money, bought a diamond pin that he always wore, kept a substantial sum with him at all times, and had a good bank account.

Yesterday morning James Alexander, 3675 Rhodes avenue, found "Charlie's" body in an alley in the rear of 3947 South State street. A heavy iron bar lay a few feet away and Duncan's skull was crushed in.

The diamond pin was missing, but $78 and a check for $15 were still in his clothes. Police of the Cottage avenue station were notified and the body was taken to Jackson's undertaking rooms at 3215 South State street.

BLAMES WAR, NOT WAR WEDDINGS, FOR DIVORCES

Judge Fry of the Domestic Court Tells Why More Homes Are Broken.

The trouble's in the war—not war marriages. It's not the little bride who faced the altar alongside a nifty uniform who caused Chicago courts to establish a record with 5,000 decrees last year, as some Circuit court judges believe. Take that from Judge Sheridan E. Fry, who presides in the Court of Domestic Relations, and, accordingly, is familiar with matrimonial difficulties of every sort.

The martial causes for marital ruin are three in number, according to this domestic expert.

In the first place, there is restlessness. After a doughboy has chummed around for a series of months with shrapnel, cooties, and sudden death he finds the messus rather slow and tiresome. He craves excitement. Finally, when he can stand it no longer he leaves a piece of china with the help of having a little fun. A decree follows.

Suspicion Is Second Cause. No. 2 in Judge Fry's category of causes is suspicion.

Paris has always had such a wild name, you know, and the women are reputed to be—well, naughty. The war bride's honeymoon days had just begun when her hero beat it trenchward, and she doubts him not at all. But with your spouse who has served several years of time in matrimonial bonds it is different. She greets her hubby with a tentative hug on his return from France and then proceeds to cast an eagle optic over his O. D. blouse for traces of feminine tresses. That's just the beginning. The divorce marks the final.

Judge Mahoney of the Municipal court is named as the third cause. He had a habit, it is claimed, of slipping improvident husbands into the army when they were halted into his court on the charge of non-support. Then, when they were mustered out of the service and sought the "home fires burning"—but why go on?

Gambling, Vamps, Minor Causes. Judge Fry also named gambling and vamps as minor causes for divorce, but he says that neither have shown any increase since the armistice. The lure of the "bones" and the polychrome chips will be ever with us, he opines, and so long as we have movie theatres as an example for the young idea, women will continue to lure.

SPEEDS ACROSS BOULEVARD, HITS AUTO, HURTS FIVE

Wild Driver Escapes
After Wrecking a Touring Car.

Frank Lukowski, 2129 Augusta street, was motoring south in Ashland boulevard with his wife, two children, and a woman friend of Mrs. Lukowski's yesterday when a youthful De Palma dashed across Thirteenth street. Lukowski attempted to turn his auto, but the speeder rammed head on into his machine, tipping it over.

The injured: FRANK LUKOWSKI, severe scalp wounds and back bruised. MRS. FRANCES LUKOWSKI, wife, cut and bruised.

MRS. JEANNETTE KURZYNSKI, 28, scalp wounds.

The Lukowski family and Mrs. Kurzynski were taken to the office of Dr. J. A. Riedel, 1806 Roosevelt road and later to their homes. Witnesses gave the police conflicting license numbers, but neither gave any clue to the speeder, who refused to linger on the scene. Police of the Marquette station have taken up the chase.

Mrs. V. E. Morris, 515 East Fifty-fifth street, was slightly injured by an auto driven by G. T. Herman, 6417 Vernon avenue. She had alighted from a Sixty-third street car at Harvard avenue, when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Ida Singer, 38, was knocked out of her husband's auto to the street and injured when the machine was bumped by a car piloted by Ignatius Czajka, 3707 North Christians avenue at Irving Park boulevard and Western avenue. Mrs. Singer was taken to the Ravenswood hospital with a dislocated shoulder.

Automobile injuries suffered last Friday by William B. Gurner, 1540 East Sixty-second street, resulted in his death yesterday at the Illinois Central hospital. Gurner was hit at Sixty-second street and Stony Island avenue by a machine operated by Leon Dettlebach, 4033 Drexel boulevard.

Blaze at White City, but

Dancers Keep on Dancing

Some excitement was caused at White City Saturday night when a small fire was discovered on the roof of the Casino dance pavilion. About 300 persons who were dancing in the pavilion were unaware of the fire until they heard the clanging of the apparatus. The loss was small.

5,000 SUITS TO FORCE PAYMENT OF TAX PLANNED

Today marks the opening of a delinquent personal property tax collection crusade by State's Attorney Hoynes. Judge Jesse Baldwin of the Circuit court has been assigned to hear the cases on information supplied by County Treasurer Gibbons. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are said to be due Cook county, and Treasurer Gibbons is out after every dollar he can collect to meet demands on the part of both the county and city of Chicago. As the collector for the county he insists that he is in duty bound to comply with the law and collect the limit.

Indications are that Judge Baldwin and possibly a judge from the Superior court will have their hands full during the rest of the year.

It is said that the calendar now being prepared will carry 5,000 suits. In the meantime delinquents, fearing added costs, are "coming across" at the rate of $1,000 daily, and this figure is expected to grow.

PHONE STRIKE STILL ON.

Pana, Ill., July 20.—Efforts to settle the case of operators of the telephone exchange at Pana, Taylorville, Stoughton, and Kincaid of the Christian County Telephone company made at a conference today between the operators and owners failed. The company agreed to pay practically the entire increase in wages asked, but refused to recognize the union. In consequence the girls refused to return to work.

The fact that we are so successful in tailoring clothes for the younger men is evidence of our ability to please every man, because in this day and age a man's years have little or nothing to do with his youthfulness.

have the most capable designers and tailors to be found in the industry—the superior quality of their tailoring proves that.

Their great purchasing power brings to you the finest of imported and domestic woolsens at prices that would be deemed fair even in pre-war times.

These are considerations for thoughtful men to ponder.

$40 or less, to $60 and more meets every possible requirement as to price, and your complete satisfaction will be our single aim.

BREW YOUR OWN POCKET BREWERY BREWS FINE ROW

Dry Chief Sees Exhibit at Store in Loop, Starts Action.

"Brew your own at home," said the sign.

"Every household needs one of our bottlers," read its companion.

Both stood brazenly in front of a store on Randolph street, near La Salle, directly across from the city hall.

"Gosh," said E. J. Davis, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, and ambled inside.

The "brew your own" sign was repeated over a table loaded with cans which, according to printed directions on the outside, contained a compound that, when properly boiled on the old home cooker, would turn out a beverage with a kick—a kick, according to the suave salesman, of from 5 to 10 per cent.

"Just like beer, only O. so much better," he said, "and only two dollars."

Mr. Davis Gets Busy.

Right alongside was a second sign, with a second notice of the household need of "one of our bottlers."

"Regular capper and everything," said the clerk. "Make it from the can and bottle it right away. No limit to the amount. Only $3.55 for the bottler, too—reduced from $5.00."

Mr. Davis went right out of there to the quiet sanctum of his office in the Security building, and wiped a fevered brow.

"Gosh," he said again, "a brewery and a bottling plant for $5.55. M-m-m."

Then he dived into a pile of papers, came out with a copy of the search and seizure act, found section 4, and read:

"Whoever shall, within prohibition territory, in any manner manufacture, advertise, sell, keep for sale, order, purchase, receive, transport, take an order for, give away or in any manner dispose of any compound or tablet from which intoxicating liquor, as a beverage is made shall be punished in the manner prescribed in section 8 of this act."

More of the Same.

And under section 8 he read again:

"Whoever . . . shall do or neglect, omit, or refuse to do anything required by this act, when there is no specific penalty or punishment imposed . . . shall, for each offense, on conviction, be fined not less than $50 nor more than $500, or imprisoned in the county jail for not less than twenty nor more than sixty days, or both, in the discretion of the court, and for subsequent violations, not less than $200 nor more than $5,000 and be imprisoned for not less

LAWYER QUILTS BAR TO BECOME PULPIT ORATOR

The Rev. Edwin V. Griswold, who was recently ordained at St. Luke's church, Evanston.

to the ministry in the Protestant Episcopal church, formerly was a practising attorney at law.

Born at Worthington, O., he received his legal education at the Ohio State university and was admitted to the Ohio state bar. He practiced law in Ohio four years and removed to Seattle, Wash., in 1911, where he was in active practice for five years.

He came to Chicago in 1914 for the purpose of entering the Western Theological seminary, from which he was graduated with honor last May.

He was ordained in holy orders by Suffragan Bishop S. M. Griswold in St. Luke's church, Evanston, May 29,
1913, and is now assisting the Rev.
Charles H. Young, rector of Christ's church, Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Griswold comes from the New England family of Griswolds, who settled in this country in 1639.

than ninety days nor more than one year."

"The act is clear and specific," said Mr. Davis later, "and we propose to enforce it. These dedicated substitutes for high voltage drinks have got to get out. We will make a canvass this week and have our action thoroughly organized in another twenty-four hours."

Some Districts Tilt Ltd.

"In general the situation is progressing very well. Since the abolition of the second deputy of police we have had about seventy-five complaints, but I believe Chief Garrity is doing his best. In some precincts, however, I think the captains ought to be either reformed or forced out. Any one knows that, unless the captain exercises strict supervision, certain favored saloon violators will be allowed, and this is true in some precincts. I am not prepared to say yet just which one I mean."

Polish Mission Here
Talks of Repatriation

Members of the Poland-Siberian war commission, which is passing through Chicago en route to Warsaw, discussed the repatriation of Polish war prisoners at two meetings held last night. The commission will appeal to the Paderewski government to bring the army, which is now fighting the bolsheviks in Siberia, back to Poland for reconstruction purposes. This army of about 120,000 men was organized from Polish prisoners captured by the Russians while fighting, under compulsion, in the armies of the central powers.

79 1-2 CENT GAS REPUTED PLAN OF UTILITY BODY

Increase Company Asked and Won Rate Both Cut Under.

Chicago's new gas rate will be fixed at from 75 to 79 1/2 cents per thousand cubic feet, according to persons closely in touch with the public utilities commission.

The war emergency rate has been 85 cents and a 25 cent tariff had been requested by the gas company after Aug. 1. The reported rates are only slightly higher than the 70 cent charge prescribed by contract ordinance—a charge which, was discontinued when the company appealed to the commission to increase its revenues in July, 1913.

Should a 79 1/2 cent rate be adopted, as yesterday appeared probable, estimates of the commission's gas engineers fix the probable income of the company at $11,873,551. The corporation asks for slightly less than $1,000, 000 additional, or $22,824,000—the anticipated revenue if the public pays 93 cents for its product.

New Billing Method.

The estimated total sales of the company for the ensuing year are $7, 600,000,000 cubic feet. In billing to consumers it will be divided as follows, if the 79 1/2 cent rate is adopted:
INITIAL CHARGE—33 cents for less than 850 cubic feet consumed, 2,750,000,000 feet to be sold; revenue to company $2,587,111.

PRIMARY RATE—Averaging 80 cents per thousand for 1,000 to 10,000 feet consumed, 18,426,000,000 feet to be sold; revenue to company, $14,740,000.

SECONDARY RATE—Averaging 75 cents per thousand for 10,000 to 20,000 feet consumed; 2,750,000,000 feet to be sold; revenue to company, $2,052,500.

TERTIARY RATE—Averaging 65 cents for more than 20,000 feet consumed; 2,575,000,000 feet to be sold; revenue to company, $2,323,750.

In addition the company derives $150,000 annually from minimum bills.

33 Cent Rate Suspended.

The 33 cent rate which the company announced before the recent hearing conducted by Commissioner Funk had been closed, is temporarily suspended.

In consequence, unless the commission fixes a new tariff by July 31, when the war emergency award automatically will expire, the 70 cent rate will become effective. Such a contingency, however, is not expected to arise.

SAFE MAN ARRESTED.

William Koutoulian, proprietor of the "Little Gem Cafe" at 736 North Clark street, was arrested yesterday charged with violation of the search and seizure law—lounge sale prohibited. He, Salva, saloonkeeper at 431 North Lincoln street, who was arrested on a similar charge.

JUG FOR HOME USE SAFE, DRY SAY OF NEW BILL

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—Search of private residences and seizure of liquor held only for private consumption are not contemplated by the prohibition majorities in congress who are putting through the prohibition enforcement bill.

Only when information has been obtained that a private dwelling is being used for the sale or manufacture of liquor, or other violation of the law, is it proposed to authorize a search and seizure of whatever liquor or property is used in the manufacture of intoxicants are found.

The fight in the house, suspended last night until tomorrow, has centered around the provisions of the pending bill which enables those charged with the enforcement of the law to enter private residences in pursuit of bootleggers or the evidence necessary to convict bootleggers.

The anti-prohibitionists have done all they could to create the impression that the law would result in a general breaking down of private rights and mark a general invasion of private dwellings by agents of the government.

But there is no provision of the pending bill, nor any proposition from the prohibition side, to interfere with the man who has provided himself with a store of liquor for his own use and who limits its use to his own consumption.

The Barkley amendment as adopted by the house practically provides that there shall be no search of any private dwelling "unless it is being used for the unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor or the illegal manufacture of such liquor."

It was pointed out by Representative Volstead, in charge of the bill, that there can be no search of private property without a warrant from a court of record.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR NEW ZION

Plans for the emigration of Jews to Palestine are advancing. Saturday the Chicago branch of the Zionist organization received questionnaires, printed both in English and Yiddish, for the use of those who want to return.

"The number of Jews that will emigrate will be negligible," said I. B.
Lipson, one of the foremost members of the local Zionist society. "Like the Irish in this country, we want a home of our own, but the American Jews will not move away any more than will the Irish if a republic is formed."

Questionnaires may be obtained at room 1212 Ashland block.

Inquiry Ordered After Fire Sweeps Junk Shops

Fire Attorney John R. McCabe was asked to investigate a fire which practically destroyed four buildings used as junk shops at 1323-1325-1327 West Fifteenth street early yesterday. The loss was estimated at about $30,000.

The fire started in a junk shop owned by Sam Fivelson and Sam Chapman,
1325 West Fifteenth street. At 1323 Belinger & King own a junk shop, and 1327 is occupied by H. Brojansky.

Stove Explodes as Two Children Sleep; 1 Burned

Vivian and Katherine Sims, 11 and 9, were asleep yesterday morning at the home of their mother, 2415 New-room flamed, sputtered, and exploded.

Vivian ran to the window and jumped.
Mrs. Sims, who had been working in the garden, ran in and carried Katherine down the stairs, but not before she had been severely burned. Neighbors put out the fire.

Chicago Evening American

Lovers of the work of Jack London—and they are legion—have something to look forward to in the appearance, beginning Monday, of "Hearts of Three" in The Chicago Evening American.

When the master of virile American literature—of the art of transporting his readers into the far, wide spaces of the earth to witness strange and intensely dramatic scenes with him—died untimely in the prime of his life and of his writing, he left behind this splendid unpublished novel.

Now The Evening American is to present "Hearts of Three" for the FIRST TIME. It has NEVER BEFORE been printed in book or magazine.

Perhaps you are one of the thousands of Jack London's readers whose enthusiasm has led them to read everything this great author produced.

"I've read everything London ever wrote" is a remark frequently heard.

But you haven't read "Hearts of Three." And your first chance to read it will be in The Evening American, beginning tonight.

"Hearts of Three" is a typical London story. To the delight of an unique and highly dramatic plot it adds the charm of scenes set in the mystic fastnesses of an almost primeval land, where savage traditions and superstitions, ages old, still hold sway.

Its hero is an adventurous American seeking pirate gold buried centuries ago; its heroine the most unusual and interesting and REAL woman ever portrayed in a work of fiction.

You will eagerly read day by day the generous installments in which "Hearts of Three" start tonight.

World's Greatest Want Ad Market

During the first six months of 1919 The Chicago Tribune printed almost as much want advertising as the other five Chicago papers combined. The figures follow:

News, Herald-Examiner,
Journal, Post, American . . . 3,919,008 lines
The Chicago Tribune . . . 3,892,410 lines

The money spent for Tribune want ads was very much greater than the amount spent in all other papers combined, since rates of The Sunday Tribune are sufficiently higher than those of any other Chicago paper to more than make up the difference in lineage.

Want advertising is largely voluntary. It comes from thousands of individuals and business firms each month. It is the unanswerable testimony of the people of a community on the relative advertising value of their local newspapers. The extraordinary record above surely proves the absolute supremacy of

JESSE L. LASKY Presents "THE WOMAN THOU GAVEST ME"

A Paramount-Artcraft Special
Directed by HUGH FORD

By Hall Caine Scenario by Beulah Marie Dix
Sold Like a Slave!

WEDDED by a selfish father to a dissolute cad whom she loathed, this pure young girl was expected to "love, honor and obey."

The world called that right. Then she spurned the ties her husband had broken, shattered the lie that bound her, sought the aid of a decent man she loved.

(And the world called that wrong. You who believe a woman has a heart, a life of her own, judge.)

But first see Hall Caine's mighty romance, "The Woman Thou Gavest Me," a startling blow for justice to women and for freedom from moral hypocrisy.

As a book, it has thrilled millions. As a picture, it will stir your soul. Come!

MAC DONALD AND HUTCHINSON LOSE IN GREAT BATTLE

Barnes Pairs with Home Star to Take Clash by 4 and 3.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Eddie Loos, the young Beverly professional, disproved the theory that an expert seldom performs well on his home course by being the star of the team match in which he and Jim Barnes of St. Louis defeated Jack Hutchinson of Glen View and Bob MacDonald of Evanston, 4 to 3, at Beverly yesterday.

There was a special prize of $35 offered for the best individual score and he led the quartet with a total of 46, two strokes under par for the 4000 yard course. MacDonald had 72 and Barnes and Hutchinson each had 73. All putts were holed.

It was one of the most interesting matches played in some time, as there were a number of spectacular happenings.

Warm Turns at Eighth Hole.

Bob and Jack took the lead at the first hole, but their opponents took the next, and by winning the third were two up. This was as far as they got, as the Chicago-St. Louis combination got on even terms at the eighth hole, took the lead at the ninth, and then won three of the next five holes, the resolute Scotchmen not having a chance to win unless by performing miracles.

Loos and Barnes lost the first hole to par four by their opponents, but on the second hole Loos sunk a twenty-five foot putt for a birdie two, Jack holes thirty foot putt.

The long third hole, 400 yards, played with a following wind, went to Hutchinson, who held a thirty foot putt for a birdie 4.

MacDonald won the fourth hole, 380 yards, by putting a fine second shot six feet from the pin and making a birdie 3. It looked as if the Scotch pair had the fourth hole won, but Barnes ran down a fifteen foot putt and halved in 3.

Loos up to this point had done nothing remarkable with the wind, but at the sixth hole he won with a par three, MacDonald rimming his putt on the line.

MacDonald misses a Three.

Loos squared the match at the eighth hole, 365 yards, by driving high to the left of the green, chipping up to six feet and holing his putt. MacDonald made a great try for a three, his chip shot from off the green liping the cup.

At the water hole, 275 yards, both Barnes and MacDonald tried to carry the pond, 240 yards. Barnes pulled his drive, but MacDonald landed on the far bank. Two feet more would have put him over. Barnes made a fine recovery from the rough and holed a six foot putt for a three. The putt Loos and Barnes 1 up at the turn.

Drives Six Feet from Cup.

At the tenth hole, 180 yards, MacDonald and Hutchinson were short on their tee shots and made poor approaches and took four. Loos drove to six feet from the cup, but missed his putt.

The next two holes were halved, but at the thirteenth Loos drove 275 yards, and with a six foot putt landed a birdie two. MacDonald got a par 3 and Jack put the ball out of bounds.

Loos followed with another eagle at the fourteenth, 240 yards, put his second six feet from the cup and won with a three, the others getting par fours. This placed the leader's dormie four, and a half at the next hole decided the match. The cards:

Hutchinson.....4 6 3 3 4 4 4 4-36

JACKSON'S HOMER BEATS YANKS, 2-1, BEFORE 30,000 FANS

DRAMATIC END TO GREAT GAME; Ovation for Joe

Wallop Lands in Stands and Gives Cicotte Well Deserved Victory.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
It was the last half of the tenth inning. Two men were out. Joe Jackson came up to bat. The score stood: White Sox, 1; New York, 1. About 30,000 fans were howling for Joe to do something. And Joe delivered a heroic drive far and high, over the right fielder's head. The crowd screamed and the ball sailed and sailed and finally dropped into the right field bleacher for a home run, ending the battle with another victory for Chicago.

It was a most dramatic finish to a hard fought contest that was chiefly a pitchers' duel between Eddie Cicotte and Ernie Shore. The crowd simply went wild. Sox players rushed from the dugout and paced Gen. Joe in from third base.

Gets Ovation at Plate.
The tall and swarthy hero jogged in with a broad smile on his face, and when he stepped over the home plate his mates hugged him. Frantic fans who had leaped over the boxes rushed over and slapped him on the back, and husky athletes hoisted him to their shoulders and bore him off triumphant.

When Joe went to bat in the eighth he led a drive against the right fielder for three sacks, but that blow was wasted. However, it had made him and the fans confident, and when he came up in that tenth, with two men out and no one on, there just didn't seem to be anything else to do but hit the ball out of the lot.

Fans Besech Joe for Homer.
"Into the bleachers this time," yelled some fan in a box behind the Sox bench. "Hit it over the fence, Joe," was the cry taken up by the throng.

Ernie Shore, the confident appearance of Joe and the yells of the fans took a bit of the spunk from Mr. Shore. Any way, he served a high fast one away outside for his first delivery, and Joe just ignored it.

The next one was over. Joe saw it coming. He walked up, took his full swing, and away went the ball to the distant stands.

Three Hit Game by Cicotte.
Cicotte had the better of his rival in the pitching duel, and deserved to win. He held New York to three blows in the ten innings. Two of them a double and a single, were bunched in the seventh, and accounted for the lone tally. The other came in the first inning. Eddie never walked a man and in eight of the ten innings set the speedy down one, two, three.

On the other hand, Shore yielded six blows, three of which were long distance drives. Besides Jackson's homer and triple, Felsch delivered a three bagger in the sixth that opened the way for the first run.

30,000 Fans Set Contest.
The biggest crowd of the year turned out to see the contest yesterday. Even then not all seats were filled, but the grandstand was jammed, with the fans standing four deep in the rear.

The balcony had less than 300 vacant seats and not more than 1,000 could have found places to sit in the pavilions and bleachers. All told, there must have been 30,000 present.

The game had progressed into the fourth inning before all the crowd was in place. Half an hour before the game began things got so congested at the gates that the turnstiles almost had to spin to handle the throng. For a time it looked as if the crowd would be spilled over on the field, but finally all were taken care of and the arena was kept clear.

Pock Opens with Scratch Hit.
When Peckinpaugh started the game with a scratch hit to Weaver in deep short there was a mild groan from the throng, but a New Yorker was left stranded to clear the bases as Cicotte disposed of the next three in a row.

The Sox had a slight chance in the second after two were out, when Rieberg bounced a single off Baker's toe and stole second, but McMullin was unable to drive him in.

In the third it looked like a good opening when Schalk led off with a single and Cicotte sacrificed, but no one could deliver the needed blow to drive Ray home.

Bases Full; No Sox Runs.
The fourth was a heartbreaker for the fans. Jackson, first up, made score on Peckinpaugh's wild throw to first. Felsch popped out, but Rieberg and McMullin walked, and Felsch printed a fly ball to Lewis, and Lewis followed with a single, but Schalk bounded to Pratt, retiring the side.

Yanks Then Tie Count.
Right away the Yanks tied the count. Pipp came up in the seventh and led off with a cracker past Peckinpaugh for two bases. Baker fouled off two try-ings to hunt, and then accomplished his purpose with a long fly to Leibold, for Pipp tagged it to the infield. With the infielders in close, Lewis poked a single to center, Pipp trotting home. Lewis took second on Pratt's out, but was left there when Bode rolled to Weaver.

The Sox hit another tough break in the eighth, when, with one out, Jackson drove against the right wall for three sacks and yet couldn't get home. Felsch was purposely passed and stole second, but Rieberg took a third strike and McMullin's best was a pop to Pipp.

Notes

Looks like Red Faber is sure to be on the slab for one game today and nobody knows who will pitch the other.

There will be a double header with the New York Yanks today. The first game will be started at 2 o'clock.

Tom Needham, old time catcher and expert p. g. man of the Cubs, worked his way through the crowd to the press stand and watched the game. Before anyone could interview him he was gone.

Experts traveling with the Yanks declare that there are only two regular pitchers, Shawkey and Shore with the team. However, they admit that when Thermaheim is good, he is very good.

The ball that Jackson hit in the eighth inning was probably a harder drive than the one which won the game in the eleventh. However, the direction on the former was more toward the center field and it failed to clear the fence and Joe was held to a triple.

There were fans in the stand who thought Peckinpaugh should have had an error in the sixth instead of giving Felsch a three base hit. Peck didn't over to his left as the ball crashed through him, and the answer is that it was hit so hard that neither Lewis nor Bode could head it off in left center.

Rumors are spreading regarding the sale of Carl Mays of the Boston Red Sox. It seems now that the club in the league are bidding for him, and the highest bid, according to rumor, is $40,000 in cash. The rumor also says that Comiskey is the one who has offered that amount. It certainly is an age of high prices.

The demonstration given Joe Jackson after the game was the greatest seen at the Sox park in ten years. A crowd was waiting for him to come out of the club house and if it hadn't been for two husky policemen, he would have been carried out of the ball park. As it was he barely saved his straw hat. One gang met him under the stand and another was laying for him outside the gates.

CONFESSIONS OF AN EX-BARTENDER—NO. 2.

WELL, I read where street car conductors want wages like a chairman of the board, or a union carpenter so big "down to the haked leather," my profession kicked out from under me, I clump my dogs to the south side car bar and compare the high exalted register ignorer.

"You see before you," I lead off, "a man who seeks employment."

"So each night at 1 o'clock when the days trying toll was over I could take all the dough out of the register and throw it up and what stuck to the ceiling went to the boss."

I could see tears in the eyes of that sapherous ruffian that he was. He wrung my hand with his trembling virtuous stranger, and you will bless me that I did not open to you the black gates of this sordid hospitality.

"Bark not impulsively lest your calmer reflection regret the unthinking words of your hasty tongue," I chirp, "in me you are driving from your door a party eminently qualified by every angle of nautical inclination an acquired talents for the complex duties of a conductor," he sneers.

"It's like this to begin with. I hate corporations, havin' myself been too long the wage slave of a brewery's oppression. Further, as a short change manipulator, I admit few equals and no superior outside of a circus box office."

"I am conversant with the college yell. I move up in front through long service on the sober side of the bar scatterin non-purchase mahogany flies so that the eager ones with silver in their dukes could rub the rail. I have a nautical swing with a bung-stick which thoroughly qualifies me for handling women on children in the vexatious hours of the rush periods."

"But over an' beyond all o' them I can juggle chicken feed as few of my contemporaries can boast. The tinkle of a dime against the cash drawer is music to mine ears when accounting for a forty cent buy. Honesty is my passion. Never have I willingly done my fellow burglar while he was there to watch me. My former employer, though engaged in an infamous traffic in alcoholic nostrums, always got a square break from me, I being a firm believer in the principle that dirty money don't get no body nothin', even if he steals it."

FISH, VEGETABLE PLANTS ARE SOLD BY WILSON & CO.

$35,000,000 Corporation to Handle Canning Properties.

Wilson & Co., third largest of the Chicago packing concerns in vegetable and fish canning, have disposed of their grocery, vegetable, and fish packing interests to Austin, Nichols & Co. of New York. A new $35,000,000 corporation, to be financed by stock sales, has been formed to handle the consolidation.

This became known through a statement issued in New York last night by Harry Balfe, president of Austin, Nichols & Co., and in a letter to stockholders of Wilson & Co. in Chicago over the signature of Thomas E. Wilson, president of the latter company.

Tells of Purchase.
The Balfe statement said:
"Mr. Harry Balfe, the head of Austin, Nichols & Co., announced today that his company had arranged to acquire all the grocery packing business of Wilson & Co., Chicago packers, and its allied companies, including the business of the Fame Canning company, which operates a number of important vegetable canning plants in the middle west and also is controlling interest owned by Wilson & Co. in the Wilson Fisheries company, which operates large and important salmon packing and fish industries on the Pacific coast and in Alaska. Mr. Balfe stated that this purchase would be financed through the sale of stock and that the purchase of stock had been underwritten by a syndicate headed by the Guaranty Trust company, the Chase Securities corporation, Healy and Co., and William Salomon & Co."

When the New York statement was handed out it was said that the deal was one which involved "not $5,000,000 or $10,000,000," but that the price was high into the millions. The $35,000,000 figure was inadvertently given out by an office man of Wilson & Co. who said:

"The details will have to come from New York. It is a $35,000,000 corporation and as long as they are financing it they will have control of any publicity that the new corporation sees fit to release."

Great Chain of Stores.
It is generally believed in New York financial circles that the present sale means that the firm of Austin, Nichols & Co. will distribute the product of Wilson & Co. and other packers by means of a great chain of retail stores. The Austin-Nichols company with branches throughout the world is capitalized at $6,000,000. The firm does a buying and selling business in almost every country on the globe and has numerous branches throughout this country, with its own piers, warehouses, and shipping.

Allege Discrimination.
The "Big Five" of the packing world have been accused lately because of their invasion of the wholesale grocery field, of attempting to monopolize it. Recently the National Association of Wholesale Grocers filed with the U. S. C. a complaint against a practice alleged to have been used by the packers to further their interests. This alleged practice consisted in arrangements with the railroad companies by which various wholesale grocery products are allowed to be included with the perishable packing products, which are given preference in delivery. Thus the packers, said the complainant, are able to promise their customers a delivery of such nonperishable products as canned goods and the like inside of twenty-four hours. The best of the wholesale grocers can do is several days or a week.

Mr. Balfe declined to discuss the question, saying that it had nothing to do with the affair in hand. His firm, however, is a member of the National Association of Wholesale Grocers, and as such participated in the protest. The effect of the acquiring of the Wilson interests by Mr. Balfe's company will have on the fight between the packers and the grocers is indefinite. Mr. Balfe gave an inkling of what may be forthcoming when he stated in a positive manner:

"One thing is certain. You will never hear of Austin, Nichols & Co. selling out to any one."
Sold for Cash.
The Wilson statement, given out in Chicago, was brief. It said:
"It having been deemed advisable and of benefit to the stockholders, Wilson & Co. have decided to dispose of their grocery packing business and interests in vegetable and fish canning factories to Austin, Nichols & Co., a New York corporation, on a cash basis."
"Austin, Nichols & Co. are one of the leading wholesale grocers of America, having been established sixty-five years, and their securing of our canning interests makes it a considerably stronger concern and adds greatly to its possibilities for the future."
"As a stockholder of Wilson & Co. you are additionally benefited by the privilege of subscribing for four shares of Austin, Nichols & Co. stock at $25 per share for every ten shares of Wilson & Co. common stock that you own. Formal details of the plan will be made known to you shortly."

RED CROSS AIDED BY 8 MILLION WOMEN IN WAR

New York, July 20.—[Special.]—The Red Cross announced today that complete figures on chapter production in the thirteen divisions of the Red Cross during the war showed that there had been 8,000,000 volunteer women who had been connected with that organization and that they had made 354,863,355 articles having a value of $31,449,997.

Standard articles are grouped under four classifications: Surgical dressings, hospital garments and supplies, refugee garments, and articles for soldiers and sailors, the latter including knitted articles, which, in turn embrace awnings, helmets, socks, wristlets, and mufflers.

The number of articles of each class produced, together with the value, was as follows: Surgical dressings, 300,896,071, valued at $13,922,292; hospital garments and supplies, 28,429,000, valued at $26,813,843; refugee garments, 4,111,402, valued at $5,600,448; articles for soldiers and sailors, 20,438,992, valued at $35,208,414.

WILSON RETURNS THIS MORNING

Washington, D. C., July 20.—President Wilson, with Mrs. Wilson, spent Sunday aboard the Mayflower cruising the lower waters of the Potomac. Neither the White House nor the navy department had heard from the Mayflower since her departure from Washington late yesterday, although she is equipped with a wireless set.

It was presumed that the president was enjoying a complete rest after his arduous labors of the past two weeks, since he took no papers or documents of any kind with him.

The Mayflower is expected to return to her dock at the navy yard here about 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. Immediately upon reaching the White House the president will begin a series of conferences for which appointments have been made.

Robbers, 'Tipped Off,' Fail to Rob; Police Vigil in Vain

A tip that a gang of holdup men had plotted to rob several United States stores in the city caused Lieutenant Luke Garrick of central district station to assign policemen and detectives to thirty stores last night. They waited until the closing hour, but no robberies were attempted.

THIS DRAMA TOO HIGHBROW FOR MIKE TO REVIEW

And He Can't Do It in Family Paper
Anyhow.

Dear Boss:
You sure thrum a tough job at me yesterday. You know you told me if I shown promise. Well, I done my duty as I seen it but I can't promise you much for the paper today.

You told me to go see "Is Sex Divine?" at the Fox Arts Bldg which was a play given in favor of the Gold Star Mothers. (So the programs said.) Well Boss, I seen it but I sure can't rite much about it because you always said this was a family newspaper.

I got there ahead of time (P. S. you know me, Boss) and counted them as they come in. There was $2, a full deck. Then they played some music then this guy started.

Wore Comona Like Sister.
His name was Doctor Free Baudech. It said on the tickets which was a buck and four bits a throw. He came out in a red silk comona like my sister Mary wares to breakfast Sun mornings.

He told us the characters was Helen and her husband and her baby and her girl friend Agnus and the family doctor and a gipsy fortune teller.

The fortune teller comes in and tells about Helen's past which I gathered was a considerable past (P. S. You know what I mean, Boss).

Mysterious Hands.
Then Agnus comes in and says the baby is a peach. She says she is in love with Helen's brother Dick. This makes Helen sore as a cut finger but I couldn't see why. Agnus says she is jealous of her brother. When Agnus says the baby's hands look like Helen's brother's hands Helen busts out crying (P. S. I couldn't get this part either).

Anyway this was the end of Act 1. It started at 4:30 and quit at 4:30. Then 13 of the gold star mothers got up and left the place so I thought I better do the same.

He's Offa Highbrows.
Now Boss, don't get sore at me because I left because I know from the way things was going you wouldn't want me to talk about it in the newspaper.

I told the manager it was rotten but he said he didn't care because most of the people but there tickets and staid away which was what I wisht I had done, myself.

Pleas don't give me nothing highbrow next time.

Mike, the Kid around the Office.

John Barton Payne Faces Fight for Confirmation

Washington, D. C., July 20.—[Special.]—John Barton Payne of Chicago, nominated by the president to succeed Edward N. Hurley as chairman of the shipping board, is to be given an opportunity by the senate commerce subcommittee to answer complaints made against him by persons who oppose his confirmation.

Senator Phillips of Colorado and others have filed protests against Mr. Payne's nomination, and the committee proposes to determine its course with reference to the appointment this week, if possible.

Opposition to Mr. Payne is based on his acts while counsel for the railroad administration. One complaint is that he did not treat the short line railroads fairly.

Happy, Rain-Soaked Chicago Doughboys Land

Newport News, Va., July 20.—[Special.]—Hungry but happy, soaked to the skin, but growing with the knowledge that they are once more on American soil and will be home in a few days, about three score Chicagoans arrived today on the transport Swanee.

SURPRISE PARTY HAS MIDNIGHT WEDDING CLIMAX

Former Soldier's Friends Lend Helping Hand to Mr. Cupid.

Ira R. Perlman, 3270 Palmer street, had been home one week after fourteen months' service in France, but he hadn't given his relatives and friends a chance to hand him the "Good work, Ira," back slap. The girl in the case—Miss Lillian D. Borer, 1902 West Polk street—had taken up too much of Ira's time to allow him to make the rounds.

Last Saturday afternoon relatives and friends gathered via the telephone and decided to stage a surprise party in the Perlman residence. Ira and Lillian previously had arranged to occupy the front parlor Saturday evening, but this only assured the relatives Ira would be at home.

The Party Is Success.
From 8 to 10 every friend and seventh cousin of Ira appeared in the mansion with a pie, cake, or a bag of fruit. The host served the coffee and sandwiches. Every one ate, drank (grape juice), and was merry—including Ira and Lillian.

When the clock tolled 11, a cousin of Ira's stepped to the front and center and delivered the following:

"Guests, I think this would be a dandy time for Ira and Lillian to be married. Everybody's here and the two guests of honor look too sweet for anything."

Ira blinked and reached for a chair. Even those German shells hadn't affected him this way.

Lillian, chief clerk in the automobile department of the city of Chicago, was quoted in The Tribune as saying that a chorus of approval greeted the suggestion. Every body agreed "that it would be too sweet for anything."

For the next moment Ira and Lillian had a difficult time accumulating themselves to the temperature of the room, but soon they regained their composure. Then they whispered in each other's ear.

"Get the Rabbi; We're Game."
"All right," announced Ira. "Well show you we haven't cold feet. Go ahead and get the rabbi. We're game."

A committee of four was appointed to make the arrangements and corral a rabbi. They hopped through the door and into a machine. Then they darted toward the residence of Rabbi Morris A. Lipchut.

When they reached the abode of the rabbi he was slumbering noisily. This didn't worry the arrangement committee, so they up into his chamber and aroused him.

"Sir, we need you for a midnight marriage," said out one of the members.

The rabbi tossed and turned, reached for his bathrobe and slippers and grunted. Then they talked business. A $10 note was exhibited, and the agreement was signed.

Ring and Flowers Obtained.

With the rabbi in the machine they drove to a jeweler's on Fullerton avenue, and invested in a white gold ring. Price unknown. A florist in Logan square was found open, and posies were purchased. Then the party sped to the Perlman residence.

Meanwhile one of the relatives had gone to his cellar and fetched a quantity of wine, which was necessary for the performance of the ceremony. A large American flag was obtained for the canopy, and every one sat in anticipation until the rabbi appeared.

Then, with four uniformed soldiers holding the stars and stripes over the canopy, and Ira and Lillian swore to "love, honor and obey. The time honored Jewish wedding rites followed.

Just then the clock struck the hour of midnight and every one kissed Lillian.

Then Ira clasped his midnight bride in his arms.

"We'd have done it in a month or so anyway, wouldn't we," he said to Lillian. She nodded.

BEG YOUR PARDON!

On July 10, in connection with a story of 500 honorary investigators of violations of the automobile laws appointed in the Chicago territory, Walter W. Miller, chief clerk in the automobile licensing department of Secretary of State Emmerson's office, was quoted in The Tribune as saying that "90 per cent have fallen down or are classified as slackers and are to be deprived of their authority."

Miller explains in the following letter that he was misunderstood:

"My conversation with Judge John Stelk was with the effect that but 10 per cent of the appointees made reports to the secretary of state because the secretary of state has no police powers. At no time did I classify 90 per cent as slackers. I specifically stated the appointees were recommended for the honorary positions by state officers, members of the general assembly, and reputable business and professional men. I explained that Secretary Emmerson personally made all these appointments after thorough investigation. My sole purpose in calling on Judge Stelk was to inform him that special automobile investigators appointed by the secretary of state serve without compensation and have no police powers. Consequently, I did not make the statement that they were to be deprived of their authority."

On July 16, The Tribune, in announcing the appearance of the Camp Roosevelt News, gave Capt. E. R. Hoftyzer as editor. Daniel P. Mitchell, high school secretary of the Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., writes that he is editor-in-chief, and that the paper is edited by the Y. M. C. A.

Rob Ladies' Waist Shop of $5,500 Worth of Silks

NOW BAD ROADS GET BLAME FOR THAT OLD H. C. L.

"One of the solutions of the high cost of living problem lies in good roads," Dr. S. M. Johnson, sponsor of the Townsend bill, declared last night. "Poor transportation facilities form a strong factor in keeping prices up," he continued. "With a system of well paved national highways transportation conditions would be improved to such an extent that the cost and time of bringing food and merchandise to the consumer would be materially cut."

Dr. Johnson said the cost of eggs in Washington was reduced last winter from 80 to 65 cents by means of motor trucks traveling over good roads. Freight costs between towns less than 100 miles apart could be cut materially by use of motor trucks, he declared. All that is necessary is the roads, for the construction of which the Townsend bill calls for an appropriation of $425,000,000.

Bohemians of Illinois Back League of Nations

The Illinois state committee, Bohemian National alliance, has sent to the two senators for Illinois the following telegram: "Illinois state committee of the Bohemian National alliance earnestly urges you to do nothing that would endanger the realization of the league of nations. Even though the constitution adopted in Paris may need amendments, we beg you not to press them, but rather give the league a chance to make good. We assure you that in this matter we voice the sentiments of 200,000 Illinois citizens of Czech-Slovak descent."

$195,000,000 TO GIVE CHICAGO "PLACE IN SUN"

Record Council Meeting Votes Today on South Shore Plans.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

The big council meeting of this generation will be held today. Not since the disastrous fire of '71 has the city council at any one meeting considered improvement ordinances of such far reaching effect.

If these pass this afternoon—as every interested person believes—the aldermen will have played their part in projecting new improvements which it is estimated will cost more than $195,000,000. In addition, $2,000,000 is to be provided for the completion of the Michigan boulevard link, the aggregate cost of which is now placed at $14,000,000.

This $195,000,000 may seem small as contrasted with the billions spent for war, but it will substantially contribute to giving the provincial town a position as the fourth or fifth city on earth. These expenditures are not only to aid and benefit public health, recreation, and convenience, but also to encourage an extension of commerce and enlargement of industry. Furthermore, the leading proponents forecast the creation of a world's show place.

Some Aldermen Ask Still More.

"Nothing like it at one council meeting," I have that from the only four aldermen who have been regularly attending council sessions longer than I have. The voting of the world's fair bonds was a highly important meeting. The Union station ordinance, involving an expenditure of $65,000,000, set another mark in the progress of the city. The sessions for the adoption of the Twelfth street ordinance, the boulevard link construction, the rehabilitation of the street lighting system, the five year extension of the water plant, and the school building program—these sessions altogether did not contemplate a combined expenditure equal to that proposed today. To these must be added the 1907 traction ordinances to get a worthy comparison.

Certain aldermen would like to increase the amount. They want a bond issue of $4,138,000 for bridges and another of $5,000,000 for enlargement and improvement of the city's sewerage plant. But it is the general view that $195,000,000 is enough for one year because the property owners will be called upon to pay nearly $107,000,000 of the total.

To all of this, which would have caused a bitter war five years ago, there is no organized opposition. In fact, there are no knucklers in the open, despite improvements which which be made in one ordinance.

May Investigate "Rivals."

So anxious are the large majority of the aldermen to make improvements ahead that it is proposed now that plans be considered at once for initiation of improvements next year.

Alld Olson will ask the council today to order an investigation of the civic improvements contemplated in Detroit, Cleveland, Cincinnati, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis and St. Paul. This and other aldermen deem it prudent to ascertain definitely what these cities are planning, because Charles H. Wacker of the Chicago plan commission has repeatedly stated that these cities are attempting to become real rivals to Chicago in trade, commerce, manufacturing and municipal improvements. The right sort of a committee would be of much service, and the council will probably pass his resolution.

Seek Prompt Bond Action.

Getting back to today's session, Chairman Wacker will send a letter to Mayor Thompson and the city council asking favorable and prompt action on the proposed bond issues for street improvements. A caucus of the west side aldermen is scheduled for this morning to boost these plans. In this sum $3,000,000 for finishing Michigan boulevard.

The other $26,500,000 is supposed to represent one-half of a cost of extending, widening and improving Ogden, Ashland, Western avenues, Robey and South Water streets. A safe minimum estimate of cost for these is $53,200,000.

The remaining expenditures come in connection with the lake front development ordinance. As a result of this the South Park commissioners contemplate expenditures totaling $55,000,000 of which about $20,000,000 is to be spent in reclaiming and improving submerged lands between Grant and Jackson parks.

Wants Speedy Acceptance.
The Illinois Central railroad's estimate of its proposed investment is a trifle more than $85,500,000. In connection with these improvements the city expects to spend around $750,000. Commissioner Mohr of the South park commission wants to see the dirty immediately. The ordinance before the council gives, in effect, six months to the railroad to accept.

"That is too long," Mr. Mohr said yesterday. "Thirty days is enough. Let them accept. Let there be an entire and complete agreement between all local agencies before we go to Washington to ask for a permit. If we can get that in sixty days, then the Illinois Central is obligated to start work in sixty more days. If this improvement is a go, we want to submit a bond issue at the election in November. We have been waiting seven years. Let's go."

Community Shop Fancy Work Sale to Help Charity

What promises to be one of the most delightful affairs of the midsummer is the exhibition and sale of practical and fancy handwork to be held tomorrow at the Community Shop, 253 Central avenue, Highland Park. The shop is under the auspices of a committee of sixty women prominent in the suburb, who are known when on duty by numbers instead of by their names. The sale will be held from 10 until 5 o'clock and afternoon tea will be served. The proceeds from the sale will be devoted to organized charities.

The invitations for a young people's dance that Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Conner of Lake Forest, were to give this evening at their residence, "Rathmore," for their son Corwin have been recalled on account of the death of an aunt, Mrs. Nathan Corwin of Highland Park.

Miss Dorothy Blatchford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blatchford of Oak Park, will be in charge of a group of young society girls who will help receive tomorrow afternoon at the formal opening of the Thrift shop to be carried on by the Service League for the Handicapped at 25 East Seventh street. Miss Blatchford, who is the secretary of the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness, recently returned from service in France. Assisting her tomorrow will be Miss Dorothy Brentano, the Misses Katherine and Harriet Allport, and Mrs. Nelson W. Cheney. It is urged that all those who have used articles of any kind sent them to the shop to be repaired by disabled men and sold for the cause.

Beginning this week there will be a young people's dance at the club every Thursday night. Miss Maude Evelyn Flower, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Flower, and granddaughter of Mrs. James M. Flower, all formerly of Chicago, will be married to Heath Hollis Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frazier of San Diego, Cal., on Aug. 2 in Colorado. Cal. where the Flowers are living at present. Miss Flower is a niece of Mrs. John V. Farwell of Lake Forest, formerly Mrs. Dymally Smith.

Root of 5480 Hyde Park boulevard, has just returned from France, where she has been in service for more than a year as secretary of the Red Cross hospital No. 14. Mr. and Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin entertained a party of friends over the weekend at their Lake Geneva residence, "Jerseyhurst." Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams of Winnetka, Mrs. Robert S. Hots, Miss Lila Hots, and Lieut. Robert S. Hots of 3033 Sheridan road, Charles L. Howard, Harold E. ### "My Lady Nicotine" Is Again Indicted as Insidious Vampire

Enjoy, all you smokers, your jag while you may; Ere long for your good 'twill be taken away; What's that? 'Twas tobacco, you say, that's aces.

Helped back up the troops; cheered their moments of ease; its white dreamy vapors are soothing at night; The smoke clears you like a cool breeze the kiddies delight; Poor sinner, rave on, praise your vice as you will— The fumes of bad habits are trailing it still.

And—but that's enough of the song of sorrow. The plot of the piece is that they're out plying the undertaker for Lady Nicotine, who probably will be laid to rest on the shady side of the hill; not "Boot hill"—John Barleycorn's lying there—but in some quiet place where her former woosers can weep under the willows.

Anyhow, the following indictment of Miss Nicotine was drawn up by Lucy Page Gaston yesterday:

"In inviting all educational, moral, reform, religious, and social uplift agencies and organizations to unite in a fight on the cigaret in our 'after the war' campaign, I believe we are preparing the way for at least a partial solution of the puzzling vice and crime problem.

"The tragedies of the late world war have sobered the nation and people are more ready to listen to any one who has a suggestion to make that may help.

"Ears are straining to hear the clear, triumphant call of the church of the Almighty God as it marshals its forces to move on the enemy, staggering under its load of gold. New problems confront the church in figuring out a large enough program to expend wisely the millions so recently gathered.

"A wag suggests that it was necessary to do something religious in this crisis so all the churches began simultaneously to 'take up a collection.' 'Bad habits are the beginning of vicious and criminal careers. Comparatively few, even of educators and Christian workers, have seemed to realize the necessity of doing more to safeguard the health and morals of youth from the cigaret and kindred evils.

"Not only self-indulgent men and women, but, unfortunately, many society girls are forming a habit that can bring but sorrow and suffering in the future.

"A well known north side man with an oath said: 'It is bad enough for men and boys, but when it comes to the women of your own home smoking cigaret something has got to be done!'

"If all right thinking people in and out of the church who are truly concerned in the matter, that is surely vital and fundamental to society and to American ideals would unite short work could be made of the elimination of this disease producing vice and crime breeding, boy destroying and woman demoralizing habit."

Announcement is made of the recent marriage of Miss Helen Mathers of 415 Oakwood boulevard, and Frank W. McCarthy of Boston. The bridegroom is a graduate of Harvard, 1918.

Dr. and Mrs. John Ridion of the Surf hotel announce the engagement of their daughter, Jeannette, to Dr. Jean Felix Picard of Lausanne, Switzerland. The wedding will take place the middle of August.

The engagement is announced of Miss Lila Caroline Opie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Opie of Fort St. Clair, Ill., to Philip Kirk Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. A. Patrick of St. Joseph, Mo.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Mary Helena Merchant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Merchant of Waukegan, to Walter Dean Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hereward Sherman of Downers Grove.

Dr. George E. Elliott of Detroit characterized as a "he" on the line in the hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," in his sermon on yesterday morning at the camp meeting. He spoke before an audience which filled the big tabernacle and surrounded it two lines deep.

"I object to the line in the hymn which says, 'Like a mighty army, moves the church of God.' That's a lie," he declared.

"The church doesn't move like an army. When I was a pastor and used to wave the sword of the spirit and lift the banner of the cross not more than one-tenth of the church membership would respond. The churches are more hospitals and convalescent camps. Instead of the preacher's being a general, a colonel, or even a corporal, he is a nurse, coddling the people to keep them good natured."

A feature of the afternoon service was the taking down of the camp meeting service flag by forty soldiers and sailors.

The afternoon sermon was preached by Dr. W. R. Wedderburn, pastor of St. James' Methodist Episcopal church, Chicago, and the evening sermon by Dr. John Thompson of Oak Park.

AT RAVINIA

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

Florence Easton's "Tosca," sung at Ravinia Park Saturday night, created something like a furore in the critical north shore and Chicago audience which filled all the seats. I venture to make the prediction that this beautiful English woman's portrayal of the title role in Puccini's greatest opera will go down in Mr. Easton's memoirs as one of the most notable operatic achievements in the history of the park. It was superb artistry straight through, and although Miss Easton's voice is no better than dozens of others which we hear and although during the second act a tightening was noticeable in the upper tones, the whole effect was one of cherish in the memory. Miss Easton is a good singer and a great actress.

In the second act, where Scarpia, "chief of police," gives the opera singer the third degree, and again at the remarkable close of the same act when Miss Easton, first strengthening herself with a wee "nip," stabs the too old maid, places the candles on the floor by the still body, and then comes back to take from the dead hand "the papers" it would have been hard to get better pantomime. Here was no chance for Scarpia's sneers at Scarpia's gloom. The woman Tosca lived, beautiful, passionate, and desperate.

Rothier's Scarpia was also a noteworthy achievement. His beautiful voice, which has pleased Ravinia folk all season, was in specially good shape last night, and he sang and acted the difficult part with that unflinching intelligence which we have observed so frequently in Rothier's roles that we take it as a matter of course from this gifted singer.

Morgan Kingston sang the part of the unfortunate Mario as well as he could. It is too bad that grand opera composers always manage to make their tenors ridiculous in some way. Kingston's Mario was less absurd than it might have been. In the second act the singer disclosed more of his histrionic gift than he has hitherto let us see. Daddi had a more solemn role than he usually sings and seemed much depressed by it.

Tonight the symphony fans will have an opportunity to hear Haydn's Oxford symphony and other classical numbers. There will be no opera. Weibach and Trammell will be the soloists.

Memorial services for George A. McKinlock

Memorial services for George A. McKinlock Jr. will be held at the Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Today is the anniversary of the death of McKinlock, who was killed in action at Berry-le-Sec, France. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. McKinlock of Lake Forest and 1100 Lake Shore drive, and was graduated from the University of Chicago in 1918. McKinlock, who is captain of the Red Cross canteen, recently returned from France, where he visited the grave of his soldier son.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The hats for early fall are going to achieve the golden mean, we are told. They are not to spread widely and gracefully about the face, drooping here and rising there, according to the type of face they adorn, and neither are they to be diminutive as some have seen a bit of a creation of feathers and tulle atop a pretty mass of soft hair. Instead they are to be moderate, smart, oddly shaped affairs. A great deal of satin and velvet will be used.

A Friend in Need Sally Joy Brown

I want to be the medium through which the friends and relatives of Sally Joy Brown may be brought together. It may be recalled that Sally Joy Brown was a very young girl who was killed in a car accident on July 17, 1919. She was a very beautiful girl and was very popular in her school. Her father, Mr. J. H. Brown, is a very successful businessman and is now residing in Chicago. Her mother, Mrs. J. H. Brown, is also a very successful businesswoman and is now residing in Chicago. Sally Joy Brown was a very kind and generous girl and was very popular in her school. Her friends and relatives are very sad to hear of her death and are hoping that she will be able to return to her home in Chicago.

Needs Wheel Chair.

"I wonder if I am too late in asking for the invalid chair which was offered through your column recently? There is a little cripple girl, I know, 11 years ago, the oldest in a family of nine (her mother a widow), who must wear heavy braces on both legs and use two crutches. Even then she walks with difficulty, her little body sagging with each step. The chair would be a marvelous blessing to her. They will be glad to pay for it, but they would be so grateful for this or any other help that might be offered."

"I am more than sorry that the latest will be for this little girl—and I hope it may be offered soon, so that during these hot days that frail body may enjoy without heart-breaking effort some of the coolness and green places in our parks."

Clothes and Books.

"I have been a patient at a tuberculosis sanatorium for a year. I am in need of shirts and underwear, in fact any clothing I should be grateful for, and for books too; good books that are cheering would be so much enjoyed here. I think I can work soon. I remember some of the great men, like Stevenson, who suffered this disease, and I keep hoping that I may do something while I live."

"W. W. J."

It is hard to be as cheerful as the writer of this request is, and be ill and poor besides. Don't you think some of us can help him a bit? Clothes he wants, on cheery books. Surely we have one or the other—and if we have, let's send them on to him.

OBITUARY.

MRS. BERTHA JONES, 68 years old, Chicago, died Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. She was the widow of Mr. J. H. Jones, a theatrical promoter, and was formerly manager of the Studebaker and Randolph theaters. She died early yesterday morning at the home of her youngest son, Aaron, at 1100 W. 11th street. She had been ill for some time. Her funeral will be held at 10 o'clock this morning at the St. Paul's church, Oakwood Park. Interment will be in Rosehill cemetery.

LOOMIS—Mary Ellen Loomis, 89 years old, widow of former Judge Mason D. Loomis and mother of Fred S. Loomis, will be buried from the Second Presbyterian church, Evanston, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Interment will be in Rosehill cemetery.

WHEAT TRADING IN WINNIPEG STARTS TODAY

Bull Factors in Corn Discounted; Operators Turn to Oats.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Trading in wheat in Winnipeg will open today. It is the first market of the world to be re-opened since the government closed trading over two years ago. Expectations regarding prices are from $2.15 to $2.30. It is not believed that Canadian farmers will be disposed to market their wheat at a low price when American farmers are getting $2.21 1/2 for No. 1 northern at Minneapolis, $2.22 1/2 at Duluth. Foreigners have shown no disposition to buy wheat awaiting the outcome of the crop.

The wheat crop of the United States will be a great disappointment from early expectations. Blight, rust and other afflictions have reduced the yield and indications are that it will not be over 1,100,000,000 bu., and possibly not that large. The latest government report was 1,161,000,000 bu., while in June it was 1,224,000,000 bu. Even with a 1,100,000,000 bu. there would be sufficient for consumption and seed of 500,000,000 bu. and exports of 600,000,000 bu. and a surplus of 100,000,000 bu. July 1, 1920.

New wheat is moving to market more freely, although primary receipts so far this month have been only 11,535,000 bu. compared with 12,115,000 bu. last year, a loss of 583,000 bu. Expectations are that four prices will be easier in the near future, although a big decline is not expected.

Corn Needs New Incentives.
The corn market has been bulled to a point where all the old influences have lost their effect and until new factors are developed, the trade is not looking for any decided upturn in values. Out-lookers are the largest holders, the big local interests being underwritten by the well out of their lines. Traders here in general are bearish and disposed to sell December, on all evidence of weakness, as it is the most active future.

The sharpest traders are selling on bulges and taking profits on the quick breaks. They think it too early to start a campaign on the short side as the crop is not sufficiently advanced to make it entirely safe. Those who are strong enough to stand sharp advances are, however, selling moderately. There has been a little country selling of December, in the high price also some buying, the latter on the belief that a discount of around 30c under September is too great, and should anything happen to the crop, the price would work up closer to September.

July Corn a Discount.
July corn was at a discount of 3c under September at one time last week, but at the close was only 1/2c under. Millers are buying white and yellow corn at good premiums over the mixed, the latter being taken by elevator interests and the futures sold against it.

The growing corn crop is in as good condition as it possible, and any change is expected to be for the worse.

The movement of corn has exceeded expectations, and should fall off shortly. Primary receipts last week were 8,100,000 bu., or 235,000 bu. less than the previous week, and the lightest since 1915.

July corn closed Saturday at $1.90, or 1/2c for the week. September, $1.94 1/2, or 1/2c for the week. December, $1.61 1/2, or 1/2c for the week. After selling early in the week at the highest known, $1.67 1/2, the close being at a loss of 5/8c. Prices for the week follow:

	July	September	December
Mon. 1.90	1.90	1.94 1/2	1.61 1/2
Tues. 1.92	1.92	1.95 1/2	1.63 1/2
Wed. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Thurs. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Fri. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Sat. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Sun. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Mon. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Tues. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Wed. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Thurs. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Fri. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Sat. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2
Sun. 1.93 1/2	1.93 1/2	1.96 1/2	1.64 1/2

The wet crop has been a great disappointment owing to unfavorable conditions from the beginning of the season. A few thrashing returns in Indiana and Illinois show much smaller yields than expected, and it will be no surprise to see a material reduction from the estimate of 400,000,000 bu. made by the government July 1. The crop in parts of the north-west also has been badly damaged by drought and heat, and the Texas crop, which the government gives as 87,377,000 bu., the largest on record, is reported to be disappointing in quality and condition that points which relied upon supplies of new oats from there are now being elsewhere. It will be no surprise to see the final yield fall to below 1,100,000,000 bu., the five year average.

Speculation has taken hold of oats and wheat prices are looking better. Higher prices are looked for. Country holders of oats are not satisfied with prices, as they have sold freely of late, and primary receipts of 5,000,000 bu. last week were above the average. Prices for the week follow:

Oats and cured product declined sharply last week after an early advance. Strained labor conditions and the high prices for product are now being met with better receipts of hops than were expected some time ago were the main depressing factors. An investigation of the farmers by the government, coupled with proposed adverse legislation, has against speculative buyers. Export business has been fair, but shipments restricted by the weather's strike. Until legitimate conditions become normal, not much is to be expected in the way of enlarged speculative trading. Packers are making less head, but despite this stocks have increased. Closing trades showed a loss of 6c to 11c on pork, 11c to 12c on lard and 5c to 6c on short ribs, accompanied with a weak gain. the western woods, southern pine, North American yellow pine, eastern spruce, and all the hardwoods of the north, with sharp advances and the seed of prices rising. Yet in evidence, notwithstanding that the summer weather in the southern belt has materially improved logging conditions and production can be substantially increased.

Demand for lumber just now is coming largely from the eastern states, with the call for lumber distributed between builders and wood consuming industries. Added to this demand from actual consumers, the speculative element is doing its bit toward increasing prices by anticipating a continued and somewhat general demand during the fall

PUBLIC UTILITY SITUATION HAS NOTE OF CHEER

Restoration of Credit Problem Awaits Solution.

In view of the fact that President Wilson in his recent message to Congress called attention to the need of constructive action in regard to public utilities, and also that the newly organized federal electric railways commission is investigating the street railway situation with a view to making recommendations, an analysis of the public utility situation has been made by Stone & Webster of New York, Boston and Chicago.

It is our belief that despite the difficulties of the war period there is a solid basis for optimism in the public utility situation, the analysts states. "The question of restoring public utility credit has become definitely recognized as one of the most important domestic matters to be solved during the coming period of readjustment. This credit must be re-established on a basis that will insure to the great industry, representing an investment of $12,000,000,000, not only an adequate return on the capital already invested but also sufficient safeguards for the new capital that must be attracted so that utilities may serve in the growth of the nation."

Utility Service Fundamental. "The services rendered in supplying light, power, gas, and transportation in our cities and for our manufacturing are as fundamental to the industrial and economic life of this country as are our railroads, mines, oil fields, agricultural lands, and factories. It is estimated that the urban population served by street railways and interurbans is upwards of 40,000,000 and that they move over 30,000,000 passengers annually. "Yet this great group of public service companies, serving national needs, producing all the higher costs of labor, taxes, materials, and supplies consumed by the war, received practically no financial aid from government sources and no assistance in a comprehensive plan for effective and speedy relief in the way of securing higher rates and fares—except as could be worked out by each individual company through the slow method of application to the state commissions, municipal authorities, and referendum vote."

High Interest Rates Paid. "Capital had to be secured to take care of maturing obligations, amounting in 1918 to over $25,000,000, at interest rates in many instances much higher than the fixed rate of return allowed on the investment by franchisees and other regulations, and with the temporary sacrifice in many cases of a large part of the equity value. In normal years the amount of new money required annually by public utilities for extension, plant aggregates from $400,000,000 to $700,000,000. During the period of the war these requirements were cut to approximately $250,000,000 per annum, but this money had to be raised in addition to the maturing obligations. "For the year 1918 it was estimated that the net operating revenue of the traction companies in the United States approximated $70,000,000, with only a few months of the war labor board awards reflected in expenses. Increases in expenses through these awards amount to over $100,000,000 annually. Since we entered the war in 1917, and up to Feb. 1, 1919, companies operating some 4,900 miles of track, representing approximately one-tenth of the total street railway mileage, have gone into receivers' hands, that about 500 miles of track have been completely abandoned, and that foreclosure sales of twenty-three roads, representing 524 miles of track, have resulted. "Prices Increased. "To indicate in a graphic way the increase in the prices of some of the most important material used in the maintenance of street railway property, the following list is of interest:

Per cent increase 1914-1918.
Seventy foot 7 inch rails per ton.....	74.7
Trolley wire per pound.....	47.2
Ties.....	35.9
Motor equipment.....	80.0
Thirty foot cedar poles.....	46.0
Alf bristles.....	40.2
Rail joints.....	46.8
Car wheels.....	126.8
Single trucks.....	49.5
Safety cars (1910).....	63.5
Double truck car bodies.....	59.8

"The above does not include wages or fuel, the largest items in the cost of operation. Increases in these over prices prevailing in 1914 in some localities are as high as 100 per cent."
